HIGH SCHOOL BOOZE SALES UNDER PROBE

Commissioner Colbourn Calls On Police to Investigate Reported Liquor, Tobacco Trafficking With Pupils

"Shimmy" Danced in Store to Attract Student Buyers, Authorities Are Informed; Woman Dealer Is Accused

Rumors of liquor-selling and tobacco-selling to students at stores near high schools, including at least one tale of a "shimmy" dancer used by one of the stores to attract trade, caused Commissioner Frank Colbourn today to mobilize the police to watch the stores near schools and high schools for violations of the law.

Police Captain Charles Bock was immediately detailed to head the investigation in North Oakland. Technical high school, according to Colbourn, is the primary point for investigation. P. M. Fisher, principal of that institution, already has advised Colbourn that a warrant has been sworn to against Mrs. A. N. Negus, 4901 Broadway, who is charged with selling tobacco to minors.

Colbourn says he is advised that liquor has been slipped into the high schools. It is also rumored, says Colbourn, that traces have been found of a traffic in drugs, though he asserts he has found no evidence as yet.

It is asserted, however, that one store near Technical edifies the students at noon recess by staging a "shimmy dance" which attracts patrons into the store and thus brings better trade. Colbourn says that these rumors affect a high school girl who has taken the job of shimmy-dancer at the noon recess.

"The whole thing is amazing," says Colbourn. "It is mostly rumor so far, but these rumors, coming so persistently, may contain more than a grain of truth. We will investigate all down the line."

PRINCIPALS, TEACHERS TO CO-OPERATE WITH POLICE. Principals and teachers in all the schools will be advised by school authorities to co-operate with the police thoroughly, according to Superintendent of Schools Fred M. Hunter.

Colbourn says he is planning such a campaign that "all parties may adopt corrective measures."

As for the allegations of liquor, he says:

"There is a deep suspicion that certain smart young high school students may be studying the hip-pocket flask, under a childish impression that this sort of thing is 'daring.' Youth is irrepressible and so much to blame; but older persons who panders to youths under such circumstances should be given every punishment that the law allows."

INSTRUCTIONS ISSUED TO ALL PATROLMEN. Colbourn's letter to Chief Drew follows:

My attention has been called to the fact that certain dealers located around public schools have sold tobacco, cigarettes, etc., to minors, and it is my wish that the police department exercise extraordinary vigilance around schools to prevent any violation of law which would affect our school children in any manner whatsoever. This especially applies to high schools.

Kindly instruct officers on all beats to co-operate at all times with school principals and advise with them so that all parties may be in a position to adopt corrective measures. When persons act that are detrimental to our school children I believe it is our business to prosecute them to the fullest extent of the law and to enjoy them from further conduct of their business.

I am enclosing a letter from P. M. Fisher, principal of the Technical high school, stating that a warrant has been sworn to charging Mrs. A. N. Negus, 381 Broadway, with selling tobacco to minors. This is the second time this place has been under fire and it seems to me it is about time the police department put an end to it.

Stanford Man's Bride Sues for Annulment

Oakland Girl Claims She Was Lured Into Wedlock; Asks $15,000.

Lured into a marriage with Ernest La Fayette Neill, a young consulting engineer of Palo Alto and former Stanford student, by his false promises and fraudulent misrepresentations, she claims, Mrs. Marion Augusta Neill, aged 24, formerly Marion Stack, has filed suit in the superior court for $15,000 damages and an annulment of the marriage.

The complaint reveals the story of a trusting girl who accepted the protestations of love made by Neill and married him in Redwood City on September 22 last. But since the marriage Neill has proved a man of mystery, according to Mrs. Stack, mother of Mrs. Neill, who resides with her daughter at the Townsend Apartments, Eleventh and Oak streets. The daughter is employed in San Francisco as a bookkeeper.

Neill insisted that the marriage be kept a secret for a time, but refused to give his reasons for the request, according to Mrs. Stack, although he intimated it was for financial reasons. It was arranged that the bride should continue to live with her mother in Oakland for a time, while he continued in business at Palo Alto.

POUSE SAID TO BE IN TEXAS.

Since that time, says the complaint, Neill has made arrangements with his bride which he never kept, and when she called his fraternal house in Palo Alto by long distance telephone she was met with statements by other members of the fraternity that Neill was not there or was in Fort Worth, Texas.

Mrs. Neill declares that Neill represented to her that he had business in Fort Worth and was located in the Turner building. She has since found out there is no such building in that city, says Mrs. Neill.

Driven to distraction by her husband's neglect and duplicity, Mrs. Neill recites, she went to Palo Alto to see him, but found that the address he had given was misleading, and she was met with scorn and ridicule by his friends.

After many attempts, says Mrs. Neill in the complaint, she succeeded in getting her husband on the long distance phone on October 30 last. Neill then declared he could explain his queer conduct, and when she replied that she would be glad to have him, Neill said:

"I don't think you have any right to ask me for an explanation," asserts the wife.

It was not until the next day, says Mrs. Neill, that she learned her husband's marriage vows had been taken without intent to fulfill them, and that his many representations were false and that he had never intended to take her to Fort Worth and build a home for her, as he had said.

Stating as her belief that Neill has funds in the First National Bank of Palo Alto and that he has made threats to go to Mexico, Mrs. Neill asks for a restraining order to prevent him withdrawing these funds.

COUPLE ACQUAINTED FOR SEVERAL YEARS.

According to Mrs. Stack, her daughter has known Neill for several years, first meeting him when she was introduced by a girl friend and her fiancé, another Stanford student, who is now dead. They only met at long intervals after that until last September when Neill expressed great love for her daughter and brought about the marriage, says Mrs. Stack.

Marriage license records at Redwood City reveal that Neill gave his age as 23, his occupation as consulting engineer, and his address as San Francisco. Shortly after his marriage, Neill underwent an operation for appendicitis, it is learned. At that time he was examined by a doctor and correcting examination papers at Stanford University.

No Collections By Force, House Votes

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(By United Press.)—Congress will not approve the use of the army and navy to collect the French war debt to the United States, the House foreign affairs committee decided today in rejecting a resolution for this purpose introduced by Representative Herck, Republican of Oklahoma. The committee stated the American debt funding commission was competent to deal with the question and that any interference by Congress would be unjustified.

Tomorrow the assembly will debate upon acceptance or rejection of the League of Nations.

TWO WOMEN ARE CLUBBED, BADLY HURT

Clarence Briscoe, Painter, Is Assailant of His Wife and Mother-in-Law; Lad Puts Up Battle to Save Them

Victims Rendered Unconscious From Blows on Head, Taken to Hospital; Police Overpower Infuriated Man

Entering the bedrooms of his wife and mother-in-law early today, Clarence Briscoe, a painter of 3580 Thirtieth, eighth avenue, warning battered women, after a fierce battle, according to police records, Briscoe was arrested and taken to the city prison, where he is held for investigation. He is believed to have been temporarily deranged.

Mrs. Etta Briscoe, 36, his wife, and Mrs. Nettie Engles, 35, her mother, are at the emergency hospital in a serious condition as a result of the beating. The wife is suffering from a possible fracture of the skull, while her mother is being treated for severe cuts and bruises.

The youth, who fought with the crazed man to save his mother and sister from possible death, was Roy Engles.

CRAZED MAN TAKEN AFTER LIVELY FIGHT.

He was no match for Briscoe and was succumbing when Patrolman Dick Philpot, who was passing the house and heard the battle rushed in.

For several minutes Briscoe and the police officer, aided by the youth, fought a desperate battle. Briscoe was overpowered and handcuffed.

The two women, Mrs. Briscoe unconscious from the blows inflicted by her husband, were taken to Mrs. Etta Briscoe, the hospital by William Jones, 3555 Thirtieth avenue. Several Klux Klan membership cards and other K. K. literature were found in Briscoe's pockets.

According to the story Jones and Mrs. Engles told the police the attack occurred shortly after 5 a. m., while the two women lay asleep in their beds. Briscoe is said by the police to have beaten the night stick with which he beat the women, one into unconsciousness, to bed with him when he retired last night.

When Briscoe arose this morning he made a fire in the kitchen stove and then apparently returned to the bedroom occupied by himself and wife. Mrs. Briscoe was asleep and police say that this husband secured the club, which was under the pillow, and struck her on the head. The blow was a glancing one.

The wife awoke and seeing her husband standing at her bedside with the club screamed. She attempted to struggle with him and then ran into the bedroom of her mother for protection.

When Mrs. Engles awoke, she saw Mrs. Briscoe was being overpowered by the club wielder. When Philpot passed the house, the officer, who resides in the neighborhood, had reported off duty and was returning home when he heard the two women screaming for help.

Philpot entered the house through the front door which was unlocked. It was only after a hot battle that the combined efforts of the youth and the policeman were able to subdue Briscoe, who was then handcuffed and placed under arrest. He was taken to the city prison.

Pastors Fight Ban on Churches in Home Areas

Berkeley Ministers Roused by Zone Agitation Against Northbrae Edifice.

BERKELEY, Feb. 21.—Because they say the "new ideas" of city planning in their relation to beautification of modern cities are forcing churches into factory districts and business areas and are driving them away from the residential zones, ministers of Berkeley have risen in arms.

A fight in behalf of the "traditions of the church" has been launched by college city clergy. At a protest meeting of the Berkeley Fellowship of Churches, held last night at St. Mark's Episcopal church, a campaign of organization was effected which will result in a committee of ministers descending upon the city council to demand "proper recognition" for houses of worship in the college city.

PROTEST RESULT OF CITIZENSHIP. The protest of the ministers comes as the result of agitation started by property owners against the erection of a new edifice for the Northbrae Methodist church, formerly Wesley A. E. church, on the corner of Land and Hopkins and Napa streets in the fashionable Northbrae region. So heated has become the protests of the adjoining property owners that a special hearing has been set by the city council for Friday evening, March 2, to decide whether or not a permit will be granted for the erection of the church structure.

"Where are the churches to go?" demanded Dr. Herman Swartz, pastor of the Pacific School of Religion, at last night's meeting. "The church must provide the people. As each new residential area is developed provisions must be made for houses of worship. Take the older churches of Berkeley. They are now located either in factory districts or in business areas surrounded by apartment houses. These surroundings, especially apartment houses, do not breed children. There are no children left in many areas to attend Sunday school. There will be no people left to attend services if the churches are classed with businesses and factories and forced to the waterfront and other outlying regions."

There is not this one isolated case of the Northbrae church, we are fighting, it is the entire principle involved," declared Dr. E. P. Bennett, pastor of Trinity M. E. church and president of the Berkeley Fellowship of Churches.

PRINCIPAL DISCUSSION, which occupied practically the entire meeting of the ministers, was opened by Dr. James Falconer, pastor of Knox Presbyterian church and secretary of the fellowship.

REV. DR. McCAILL. Rev. E. N. Christiansen, pastor of the Northbrae Methodist church, which is "now without a home," urged that "moral support" be given his congregation in its desire to erect a new structure, which he declared would be an asset instead of a detriment to the community.

"This is a bad precedent to establish," was the contribution of Dr. Oswald W. S. McCall, pastor of the First Congregational church. A committee was named to prepare arguments which will be presented at the city council hearing. The committee was made up as follows:

Dr. Herman Swartz, president Pacific School of Religion; Dr. W. R. H. Hodgkin, rector of St. Mark's parish; Dr. O. W. S. McCall, pastor First Congregational church; Dr. E. A. Hanley, pastor First Baptist church; Dr. L. B. Hillis, student pastor of the Presbyterian church.

A recommendation against the proposed establishment of the Northbrae church presented to the city council a fortnight ago by the city planning commission precipitated the protest.

SECRETS TELL COUNCIL VIEWPOINT. "While the city planning commission feels that the core in question is a 'logical' place for a church building, it could not in the face of the strenuous opposition shown by property owners recommend other than to 'do it.'"

RUHR REDS ORGANIZING LARGE ARMY

Communists Forming Strong Forces in Essen Plants; French and Belgians to Impose Stern Measures

Washington Expects Definite "Break" Within 30 Days; Censorship Is Established Over Former U. S. District

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 21.—(By United Press.)—Communists in the Ruhr are forming military organizations and a strong force already has been raised at the Krupp works, according to despatches from Essen.

By GEORGE R. HOLMES, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The expectation prevails among some of the highest officials of the administration that the next thirty days will see a definite "break" in the Ruhr situation.

There is a possibility of British and American good offices being called upon to effect a new understanding on reparations. This was revealed with the announcement that plans for Secretary of State Hughes to attend the fifth Pan-American congress at Santiago virtually have been abandoned.

COBLENZ, Feb. 21.—(By International News Service.)—A censorship was established today by the French forces that took over the old American zone of military occupation.

PARIS, Feb. 21.—(By the United Press.)—Stricter measures to be imposed in the Ruhr, including establishment of special money for the Rhine, were discussed by Premier Poincare and Theunis today.

Belgium and France will co-operate in the manufacture and sale of confiscated Ruhr products it is understood.

Reports from the Ruhr announce increasing disorders. Essen is without police; a paralyzing general strike led up everything in Düsseldorf. German Minister of Commerce Severing defied the allied order and entered occupied territory to strengthen the population's resistance.

Bavarians in the Ruhr valley have threatened to cut off the hair of German girls who fraternize with French troops.

HOPE OF SETTLEMENT SEEN IN LOAN PLANS. BERLIN, Feb. 21.—(By International News Service.)—The first real hope for a settlement of the Ruhr crisis was aroused today by the revelation that foreign bankers have agreed to co-operate with the Reichsbank to guarantee the proposed loan of 200,000,000 gold marks. An agreement has already been reached between the government and bankers for the loan. The loan is payable in three years and the subscriptions will be in dollars.

Opinion is gaining ground that German bankers and outside financiers would not undertake this obligation unless they believed that a settlement is in sight by which Germany will secure their industries and coal mines from the French.

PROPERTY SEIZED WHEN FINE IS REFUSED. ESSEN, Feb. 21.—(By International News Service.)—French troops this morning seized the property of the occupied Gelsenkirchen last Saturday in retaliation for non-payment of the fine of 100,000,000 marks were withdrawn today. While the municipality refused to pay the French obtained the money by seizure of funds from business houses and from pedestrians in the streets.

FRENCH CONTINUE EXPULSIONS FROM RUHR. DUISBURG, Feb. 21.—(By International News Service.)—The expulsion of Burgomaster Kotten of Duiseldorf following closely the removal from the Ruhr of Dr. Gruetzner caused a sensation and resulted in the walkout of most of the workers in this city. Only the street railway men and one employee of the power plants were on duty last evening.

At Mayence, the arrest of the director of posts and telegraphs was followed promptly by a walkout on the part of the employees in this section and troops took over the buildings. Central railroad officials in the Mayence area have received jail sentences of from ten to sixty days for encouraging the strike.

'NO QUARTER' CRY IN BIG FILIBUSTER

Neither President Nor Senator Jones Will Surrender or Withdraw Subsidy Bill Which Faces 'Talk' Death

During a Brief Respite the Opponents of the Measure Gather All Kinds of Material for Prolonging Fight

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—"All deals are off; the fight will go on indefinitely."

With this announcement, Senator Jones of Washington today prepared as the senate met at 11 o'clock to continue holding out against the Democratic filibuster against the administration's ship subsidy bill.

Neither President Harding nor an administration leader in the senate has the slightest intention of surrendering to the filibusters or of withdrawing the bill, Jones said.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEADER WIRE TO TRIBUNE. WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Presenting unbroken ranks and armed with more material for continuing their campaign of talk and more talk, senate opponents of the administration shipping bill resumed today their filibuster with no end in sight.

Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, started the filibuster off for the day, resuming delivery of his address begun last night in support of his resolution to direct the President to enter into negotiations with Great Britain and France for purchase of certain of their Caribbean possessions. He had hauled forth the two big maps with which he, with pointer in hand in schoolmaster style, has been illustrating his speech.

PREPARED TO CARRY FIGHT TO FINISH. Senator Jones, Republican, Washington, in charge of the ship bill, met the resumption of the filibuster with the statement that he was prepared to carry on the fight; that he would insist on another night session lasting as long as possible, and that every possible strategy would be employed to defeat the purpose of the filibusters.

The recess taken last night at 11:30 o'clock after a twelve and a half hours session, allowed senators to get a fair night's sleep, and those who answered to the opening quorum call appeared reasonably refreshed, including Senator Sheppard, Democrat, Texas, who yielded the floor at 6 o'clock last night after having spoken continuously for more than six hours and in all about eleven hours.

BREAK GIVES NEW LIFE TO WIND CONTEST. The break in the session played into the hands of those conducting the filibuster in more ways than in giving them a rest, for it afforded several an opportunity to gather more material for their contemplated speeches. It gave Senator Brookhart, Republican, Iowa, one of the leaders in the talkfest, a chance to dig up the speech of fourteen hours made by Senator Jones in 1915 on the ship purchase bill then before the senate.

Senator Brookhart announced he would read the speech "as a part of my remarks when I take the floor."

Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, informed his colleagues that the time had allowed him "to do considerable reading on old King Tut of Egypt and his defoliation of the Israelites."

Senator Reed had a little difficulty recovering the floor when the senate reconvened, but after bickering between leaders of the senate factions, he was allowed to proceed. All other business has been postponed.

Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, informed his colleagues that the time had allowed him "to do considerable reading on old King Tut of Egypt and his defoliation of the Israelites."

Senators' Talk Ranges From Tut To Lame Ducks

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Chief contributions to the senate ship subsidy filibuster were to include:

Senator McKellar, Tennessee, from six to eleven hours, or more, reading Senator Smoot's 1915 filibuster speech on the Wilson ship bill.

Senator Stanley, Kentucky, two hours on prohibition and general topics.

Senator Borah, Idaho, one hour on Russia.

Senator Heflin, Alabama, indefinitely on King Tut-Ankh-Amen and his relation to the present Federal reserve system and the wolves of Wall street.

Filibuster speeches already made include:

Senator Shepard, Texas, ten hours, forty minutes, on the League of Nations.

Senator Williams, Mississippi, forty-three minutes on "Republican short-comings" and "Lame ducks."

Senator Caraway, Arkansas, ten minutes on the dismissal of bureau of engraving employees.

Senator Reed, Missouri, two hours on buying the West Indies.

Two Los Angeles Sicilians Are Arrested After Accepting Money From Rabbi.

BY UNITED PRESS. LEADER WIRE TO TRIBUNE. LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21.—S. T. Burch and J. H. Miller, prohibition agents, were arrested today by Prohibition Chiefs H. H. Dole and C. H. Wheeler, after they had watched through holes in the wall of Rabbi Jacob Toiv's house and had, they charged, seen the subjects agents take $250 from the rabbi for "squaring" alleged irregularities in his sacramental wine supply.

The money was marked, Dole declared, the pair were arrested and charged with extortion and accepting bribes, and held on $10,000 bail.

The rabbi declared that the two agents had inspected the wine supply and had found a minor discrepancy. They said they would return the matter was reported to prohibition headquarters, and Dole and Wheeler kept wait, boring holes through the wall. When the agents entered, they said, according to Dole:

"How much money have you got?"

"We'll have to have $250, at least," Dole alleged they said. The rabbi produced $250. The agents, he said, then told the rabbi how he could beat the prohibition regulations by selling wine and charging it to a member of his congregation. The agents arrested them when they left the house. In addition to $250, Burch had $1070 in his pockets and Miller had about $500, Dole said.

Miss Annie Florence Brown, president of the Anti-Tuberculosis Society of Alameda county, sent a communication to the board thanking it for assistance given in the schools in the Christmas seal sale.

Child Elopers Back Home and Broke by Tour

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—Armed with a toy revolver loaded with paper cartridges and the meager contents of a household bank, two local school children started forth in search of adventure Monday and at home today sadder and wiser.

It was the idea of Charles Feely Jr., of 24 Sanchez street, that Mabel Read, 64 Harvard street, join him in a tour of the world. Young Feely is 10 and Miss Read is eight. He provided the revolver and she being quite practical contributed the bank containing $6.

In response to a note which read: "I am going to run away. Will you go with me? Meet me in the school yard at recess." Miss Read went home, packed a trunk and left for San Francisco and kept the rendezvous.

First of all, they rambled around San Francisco and then ferried to Sausalito.

There the first untoward event took place. While attempting to scale a fence, Feely caught his trousers on a picket and tore a most important part. They could not be mended, as Miss Read had not remembered to bring a spare pair.

Today they are back in school again. The trip cost $5.50 and a pair of trousers.

Bank Fighting Suit of Deposit Box Robbery

MODESTO, Feb. 21.—The question of the liability of a bank in case of a burglary of safety deposit boxes is being threshed out in Superior court here before Judge J. C. Needham.

Elmer C. Wilhite is suing the First National Bank of Crooks for $1500, the sum he lost when burglars robbed the safe deposit boxes of the bank of approximately $30,000 in Liberty bonds on the night of March 17, 1920. This is said to be second suit of its kind in the California courts. The first is now before the Supreme court on appeal, a jury having awarded judgment against the bank.

COLBOURN ASKS PUBLIC AID IN TRAFFIC CONTROL

Commissioner in a Talk to Merchants Tells Police Problem.

Politics and Board of Education activities should not mix, in the opinion of Commissioner Frank Colbourn, who addressed the members of the Merchants Exchange at their luncheon at the Hotel Oakland yesterday. His topic was "Politics in Business." He declared that the people must have their money spent intelligently.

Concerning the duties of his office Colbourn said: "The man who fills a commission must have more than it should to enforce the traffic regulations. The reason the people are paying so much more than should be necessary is that the public is not sufficiently interested in the enforcement of the traffic laws."

"You are injuring your business and the business of other people when you do not co-operate with the police department in the enforcement of the traffic regulations. Politics and business can go hand in hand in this instance. We must use the implements we have at hand and keep the offices going. In the majority of cases, outside of traffic and prohibition enforcement, the only reason we can control the situation is because you obey the laws."

"Politics must have a clean bill of health. No man or group of men can keep politics clean. Co-operation of all the citizens is needed."

At the close of Colbourn's talk I. H. Spiro mentioned how the Merchants Exchange had stood back of Colbourn in his work and offered the suggestion that, should Colbourn aspire to higher offices in Oakland, the Merchants Exchange would prove his strong supporter.

Mrs. Dennis had resided in Berkeley for 15 years, making her home at 2648 Stuart street. Death followed a short illness of pneumonia. Mrs. Dennis was a member of a pioneer family of Alameda county, residing for many years at Sutter Creek in that county.

UNITED STATES POPULATION SET AT 110,100,000

Estimated Gain on January 1 Since Last Census Is 4,500,000.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—The population of the continental United States on January 1, 1923, was approximately 110,100,000 according to a preliminary estimate made by the National Bureau of Economic Research, of this city and given out today. This shows an estimated gain of 4,500,000 since the date of the last government census.

These figures are necessarily preliminary, says the bureau, for the final census figures on births and deaths are incomplete after the end of 1920. However, enough data are available to show that since January 1, 1921, the rate of increase in population growth has been accelerated noticeably, the present rate approaching that of pre-war years.

This more rapid gain in population, according to the bureau, has been brought about partly by increase in net migration, but has been decidedly reinforced by a reduction in the death rate. At the present rate of growth, the population at the 1930 census will reach 120,000,000.

ESTIMATES TABULATED.

The estimates by half years are as follows:

Year	Date	Population
1920	Jan. 1	105,600,000
	July 1	106,351,000
	July 1	107,755,000
1922	Jan. 1	108,533,000
1923	Jan. 1	110,100,000

b—Final estimate by this bureau.

c—Preliminary estimate.

It is probable that the revisions to be made in all estimates, except that for January 1, 1923, will be relatively slight, but this figure may be changed materially when fuller data on births, deaths and immigration are received.

It is impossible to calculate with precision the population of the country at any given date, the statement of the bureau says, the reason being that in many of the states, births and deaths are not reported, and even in the registration area a very considerable number of deaths and still more births appear to escape being recorded. There are, presumably, also, minor errors in the statistics of immigration. Because of the difficulties involved, the census bureau has made its estimates of the population for the

Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine eradicates dandruff; invigorates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair. Danderine is the best, cheapest and most delightful hair corrective and tonic. It is to the hair what fresh showers of rain are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, stimulating properties help the hair to grow long, heavy, strong. You can surely have beautiful hair, and lots of it, if you will spend 25 cents for a bottle of Danderine. It is not greasy, oily or sticky. —Advertisement.

Here, There and Everywhere in the Eastbay

Ancient Improvements. Oakland women are now taking to the ancient Egyptian headress. A local bachelor says he approves of this, as it will be a comfort to sit in a street car without getting a feather in his eye and a hat pin or two jabbed into his neck.

Only 600,000,000 people lost all they had earned trying to double their money in 1922. It seems like the folks that got the most knowledge haint got nothin' else. (Copyright, National Newspaper Service)

Little by Little. The average family paid one per cent less for its food in January than in December, says a Washington expert. An Eastbay statistician says it reminds him of the little boy who received a penny on his birthday and exclaimed: "Oh, father! I'm going to try to live to be a hundred years old, so I'll have a dollar!"

Looks That Way. The German dance craze is being curbed, we are told. A TRIBUNE reader says it looks as though France were going to insist that they pay the fiddler, just the same.

SIMPLICITY IS MERIT. This census process, which is termed a straight line extrapolation, has mainly its simplicity to commend it for when applied, errors of considerable size gradually accumulate as changing conditions effect population growth. For example, the official method showed a population for January 1, 1920, nearly two millions greater than that given by the actual census count on that date.

The method of procedure devised by the National Bureau of Economic Research to correct this difficulty is relatively simple. The number of births and deaths have been estimated for each half year and the increase of population due to excess of births over deaths has been calculated. This amount has been corrected by adding the excess of immigration over emigration for each half year. The population for June 30, 1919, has been estimated from a smooth curve, and figures have then been built up for each year until the census of 1920.

The estimate thus arrived at for January 1, 1920, is in error by approximately half a million, or only about one-fourth of the corresponding error resulting from the official method of estimate. The labors of the bureau, in this regard, have been under the immediate direction of Dr. Willford I. King, formerly assistant professor of political economy of the University of Wisconsin, who has been engaged on this work since 1921.

The figures presented in the foregoing table are derived by following the procedure just described, the adjustment to correct inadequate reporting of births and deaths, being the same as those found necessary to offset this error in the last decade.

Northwestern to Have New Campus

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—Plans for construction of what will be one of the finest and largest urban university campuses in the country, together with the outline of the buildings surrounding this campus, were announced here today. The campus, that of the downtown division of Northwestern University, will be approximately 100 acres in extent, and will be situated on a 100-acre tract in the city of Chicago, off Lakeshore Drive at Chicago Avenue in downtown Chicago, one mile from the loop.

The value of the property at completion will be approximately $10,000,000, as the grounds, purchased three and a half years ago, cost $2,500,000 and has since doubled in value, and the buildings will cost in the neighborhood of $5,000,000 and possibly more.

The buildings contemplated will include a teaching hospital, a clinic, the medical school, the dental school and a school of commerce and law, together with dormitories, commons and gymnasium.

The plan shows the general arrangement of the property as a huge medical center rising many stories in the air, with a complete elevator service. The other two schools—law and commerce—would be in two three-story buildings without elevators. These buildings, with dormitories, commons and gymnasium, would surround on three sides, this McKinlock campus, the athletic field of which would be open on the east.

At the main or business entrance are two large auditoriums, each seating 2,000 persons.

RAILROAD MAN DIES, 58.

PASADENA, Feb. 21.—John Ellsworth Blount, nationally known railroad construction engineer, died here today of a heart ailment, aged 58 years.

Frank J. Youell, proprietor of a local undertaking establishment, today purchased the old family home of Constant Meese at Telegraph Avenue and Thirtieth Street for $30,000. The purchaser was represented by James C. Walsh, deputy district attorney, and the seller by O. W. Cottrell and F. C. Watson.

How It Happened. A slump in the diamond market is reported in a London dispatch. A local love pirate claims part of the credit for it. He says he helped corner the solitary market.

4 Months for "Wet." Four months in the county jail was the punishment prescribed in the United States Court in San Francisco today in the case of Joseph Cambria, of 223 Twenty-eighth Street, charged with violation of the prohibition laws.

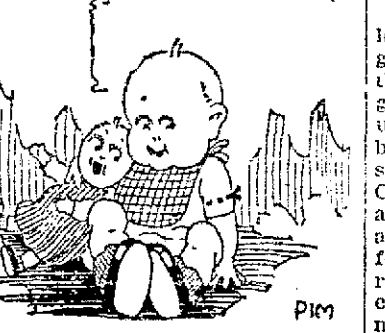

His Experience. The husband of an extravagant Oakland woman was reading of the girl who went to South Africa and chose her husband by the flip of a coin. "My experience," he remarked, "has been that the money generally thrown around after marriage instead of before."

Loving Lorente Sues. Loving Lorente, Oakland today filed a suit for divorce against his wife, Mrs. Ida Lorente in which he charges that although he tried to live up to his name his wife would not give him an opportunity to do so. Lorente charged that when his wife attended dances she insisted on being introduced as "Miss" Lorente.

The Modern Method. A man bruised his fingers winding a clock. A local auto owner says he should buy a self starter instead of one of those models you have to crank.

"Baby Mine"

MAW IS ALWAYS CORRECTING POP'S GRAMMAR AN' THEN SHE ASKS ME "IF HER LITTLE TOOTSIE WOOTSIE AIN'T SHAMED OF POPSY?"

It Can Be Done. A baby's blue eyes were recently ruled out as evidence in a paternity case in an eastern court. An Oakland attorney says he has seen a baby stare work wonders with a jury when properly brought into play by an experienced flapper.

Suit Follows Auto Crash. A damage suit for $1005 resulting from the collision of two automobiles was heard today by a jury in Superior Judge Mortimer Smith's court. The plaintiff in the case is the Powell Brothers' Construction Company and the defendants are J. C. Faustina and Charles Bauman.

Looks That Way. The ophthalmologists of the bay district are to hear a series of lectures here. Looks as though the eye specialists were going to get an earful.

Husband and Wife

When it snows my husband shakes his coat in the sitting room instead of on the porch.—Mrs. F. C. H.

What does your husband do?

Should Be Busy. A burglar stole $400 worth of perfume. A local detective says that once they get on the scent, the sleuths shouldn't have any trouble trailing him.

Office Building Planned. An applicant for a permit to build a 3-story brick and concrete loft building at the southwest corner of Fourth and Alameda was made today by the C. L. Greeno Company to the city's building department. The structure will cost $25,000.

Woman Falls From Car. Mrs. Sadie Aubrey, aged 22, and living at 1257 Eddy Street, San Francisco, was injured in a fall from a street car at Twenty-first and Grove Streets last night. She was taken to the emergency hospital by her husband, Lester B. Aubrey. She was suffering from contusions and abrasions.

Dr. Wheeler Recovers. Dr. Benjamin D. Wheeler, president emeritus of the University of California, is recovering from an attack of influenza with which he has been confined to his home for several days.

Philadelphia Plans Huge Building Outlay

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. Feb. 21.—It is estimated that the building construction program for this city this year will exceed $135,000,000. Of this sum, about $60,000,000 will be expended on the new 900 into new office buildings, $8,000,000 into public schools, and $10,000,000 into factories and $5,000,000 into apartments. There is not a liberal supply of any building materials in sight and indications that prices will increase rather than decrease.

RUTTER INSPECTS NAVY'S FLEET OF WHISKEY CHASERS

Federal Prohibition Director Visits Mare Island to Choose His Craft

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—Following the completion of negotiations between S. F. Rutter, federal prohibition director and Rear-Admiral Alexander S. Halstead, commandant of the Twelfth Naval District, Rutter went to the Mare Island navy yard today and inspected a fleet of submarine chasers which will be put into commission to chase booze runners off the Pacific coast.

Although both naval and prohibition officials are reticent regarding the plans it is understood that the fleet of naval vessels which will patrol this section of the coast to capture rum ships will consist of ten boats.

The activities of the fleet, it is understood, will be directed mainly against the "mystery ship," which was reported recently as attempting to land a cargo of liquor in this vicinity. Rutter's negotiations with the naval authorities were completed yesterday.

Alarmed at the flood of booze that has been landed along the coast, despite the endeavors of the United States Coast Guard cutters, Shawnee, Golden Gate, Tulare and Swift, Rutter is understood to have persuaded Prohibition Commissioner Haynes during the latter's recent visit that the sub-chasers should be purchased and operated by the prohibition department.

Funds and permission to buy the ten sub-chasers arrived a week ago and were followed by Rutter's mission to acquire the fast craft. Under the navy scrapping program the Navy Department will sell the boats from the idle fleet of 74 craft now anchored at Mare Island. The boats are capable of a speed from 16 to 26 knots and will be able to outdistance any of the smuggler craft now known to be operating on the coast from Canadian and Mexican ports, officers here said.

The sub-chasers are 100 feet in length and carry a one-pounder gun with a four mile range. Although they originally cost the government $40,000 apiece, it is understood that the price paid will be $500. With the addition of the sub-chasers to the present four Coast Guard cutters in operation, and the Coast Guard boats Egan and Vaughan, now at Mare Island for survey and repairs, the booze-runner fleet on the California coast, it was said today, will be nearly as numerous as the fleet protecting the Atlantic coast.

"To the innkeepers or what states are the nicknames 'Tar heels' and 'Crackers' applied?"
The people of North Carolina are sometimes called "Tar heels." "Crackers" is a name given to inhabitants of Georgia.

"What is the best and cheapest way to ship a typewriter to Colfax, Calif?"

"Will you please print a recipe for enchiladas?"
The sauce: Cut off the core and take out the seeds of six large dark red chili peppers. Put down to boil in enough soup stock to cover them and boil until tender (about an hour). Remove the chili peppers and rub through a sieve and put the pulp back in the stock. Then put two tablespoons of lard in a pan with two cubes of garlic (which is to be taken out when chili is cooked). Then add the stock and chili mixture; add one tablespoon of flour to each cup of stock, and cook slowly until done. The filling: Mince two onions and one-quarter pound of Edam cheese or Parmesan cheese. Sprinkle with Spanish sauce and a few drops of tabasco sauce. Take the tortillas and dip each in the hot sauce until heated through, sprinkle with the filling and roll up like a jelly roll. Place on a hot platter and cover with the rest of the mixture; then pour over them the chili sauce and garnish with olives.

Berkeley to Celebrate Birthday of Washington

BERKELEY, Feb. 21.—The most elaborate celebration of Washington's birthday ever held here is scheduled for tomorrow
at the Berkeley High Auditorium, under the auspices of the Berkeley
Post of the American Legion.

The city officials and university ceremonies at the municipal

In the evening the big observance will be held in the high school

be the main speaker.

Representatives from the G. A.
R., W. R. C., Spanish War Veterans,
Veterans of Foreign Wars and

ITCHING ECZEMA DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Even itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties this sul-

ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up, and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the tor-

REORGANIZATION OF TRACY C. OF C. IS INAUGURATED

California Development Association Directing Campaign Machinery.

TRACY, Feb. 21.—A reorganization campaign for the Tracy Chamber of Commerce has been inaugurated under the direction of the California Development Association.
Charles C. Mack, formerly campaign director with the American City Bureau, is on the ground and setting up the machinery for the campaign. Recently campaigns were conducted in Manteca and Madera. The business men of Tracy are looking forward to even greater accomplishment than has been experienced by neighboring towns.

The California Development Association renders this service free
to communities in California, giving them expert direction under a trained man for several weeks.
This service has been expensive
as rendered to civic organizations in the past by companies that were in the business for profit.

The plan instituted at Tracy is not an experiment and is identical with the modern methods used in all of the successful civic-community organizations of the country.
It embodies the five cardinal principles necessary for a successful
chamber of commerce.

Adequate income, trained management, a program of work, an active membership, a system of committee organization and control.

City Marshal Jack Madrid will go to San Francisco the first of March and be operated on for the third time in an endeavor to straighten out his right arm which was shot through at the elbow in a gun fight with a Sergeant at San Joaquin bridge last year. The arm healed in a bent shape, being held in a sling; but it was hoped that it would straighten out with time.

Madrid has gone through a long course of medical treatment in the endeavor to regain the entire use of his arm. If this operation fails, he will receive full indemnity insurance for the loss of the use of his arm.

Like a Knife Thru the Heart

That's how the sharp, shooting pain caused by gas pressure feels to the average sufferer. Many people endure it, thinking the heart is affected, when in reality the stomach is at fault.

To get rid of the pain you must prevent the formation of excessive gas in the stomach and bowels. This can be done quickly and safely by taking Basalman's Gas Tablets before and after meals.

Basalman's Gas Tablets are used throughout America for the relief of gas and evils resulting therefrom.
They contain no drugs—no harmful drugs of any kind. Anyone can take them. Relief is usually given in a few minutes.

Leading druggists carry Basal-

comes in a yellow package—price,
one dollar. J. Basalman, Chemist,

Forty Seasons Ago Today

Leonard Grover's "The City"
opened at the California theater last night. It is said to be superior to "Lights of London" and
"Street of New York." Grover and Anna Stuart Stanley are playing the leads.

"Thirty-five years ago Matt gave Jake the rush act for $20. Jake felt when Matt said that he would return it at eleven o'clock the next day. "If I am alive you will have it," Matt told Jake. So at two o'clock the following day Jake appeared on the streets of Mobile with crepe on his hat and on his arm.

"Did you hear about poor Matt Gau?" he inquired everywhere.
"Well, Matt's dead. Then he would tell the story. Matt has spent the last thirty-five years trying to live down Jake's propaganda."

CURTAIN CALLS

SPRING is apparently with us.
Already the announcements
of special starring engagements
and new plays are being made.
A few weeks ago Holbrook Blinn began his special starring engage-

Edward Everett Horton is due at the Fulton.

With the announcement of Hor-

concerning a series of new plays secured for dramatic stock presentation at the local theater. Horton will inaugurate his season with
"To the Ladies" in which Helen Hayes is now starring in the east.
While Horton who is prominent both in pictures and on the stage
here he will choose from such plays
as "The Champion" in which Grant

Blue-jay

(to your druggist)

The simplest way to end a corn is Blue-jay. A touch stops the pain instantly. Then the corn loosens and comes out. Made in a colorless clear liquid (one drop does it) and in thin plasters. The action is the same.

Pain Stops Instantly

Dim Eyesight

If your eyesight is dim, your vision blurred; if your eyes ache, itch, burn or feel dry, get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets
from any druggist,
dissolve one in a fourth of a glass of water and use to bathe the eyes.
Bon-Opto has given
stronger, clearer,
sharper vision and
relief to thousands.
Note: Doctors say Bon-Opto strengthens sight of eye and a week's use in many cases
and druggists everywhere sell it under a positive money-back guarantee.

Washing Won't Rid Head of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.
Do this tonight, and by morning,
most if not all of your dandruff
will be gone and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.
You will find, too, that all itching
and desiring of the scalp will stop
at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.
You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and it never fails to do the work.—Advertisement

ENLARGE THEIR STORE BUILDING

Six-story Addition on Lot 100x100 to Be Begun April 1.

On April 1 Kahn Bros. will commence the construction of a six-story addition to their present building, which will occupy the property at Sixteenth street and Broadway. This new building will be fire-proof, covering the lot 100x100 feet, which in June, 1919, was taken over under a ninety-nine year lease from E. A. Bushell.

The present building of Kahn Bros. was opened for business less than ten years ago, with the belief that no additional space would be required for many years to come. This building at the time of its erection was the largest building occupied by any one tenant in the city of Oakland. This condition still exists, but the new building is being built because of the necessity of additional floor space.

BRICK AND TERRA COTTA.
The new building will have a brick and terra-cotta exterior, matching the general details of the Kahn building. Kahn Bros. will occupy the entire four upper floors of the building and part of the main floor space. Part of the main floor and the entire second floor will be leased to other tenants. Due to the differences in street levels between San Pablo avenue and Broadway the third floor of the new building will be approximately level with the second floor of the present building.

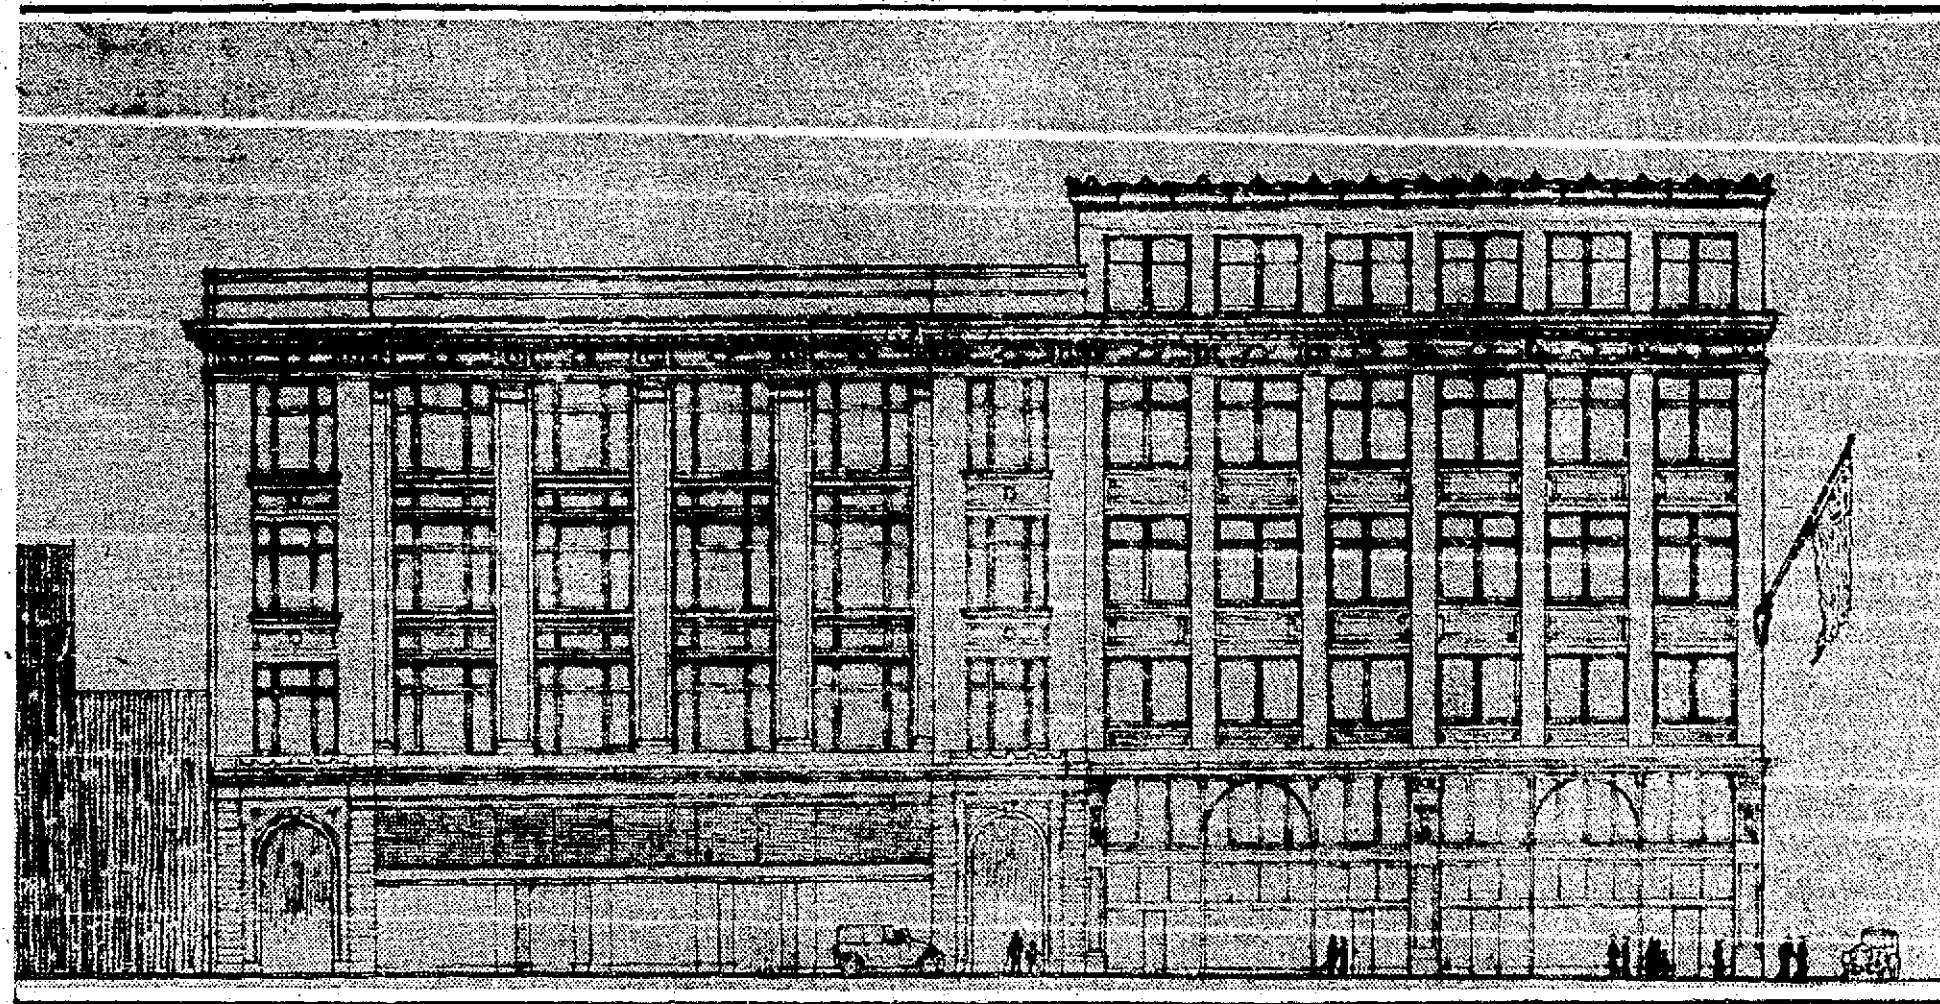

Three additional passenger elevators will be installed, making a total of six elevators. The addition will be built and ready for occupancy October 15th of this year, in time for the Christmas trade.

The enlarged Kahn building will have a frontage of 230 feet on Broadway, 174 feet on 16th street, with one wing running through to San Pablo avenue, in which the frontage will be 130 x 100. Provision will be made in the new building for an auditorium which will seat several hundred people. It will be used for lectures and concerts, which will be open to the public.

GREAT FLOOR SPACE.
The building now occupied by

Kahn Brothers' Building to Fill Space in Oakland's Skyline

In the center is the front elevation of Kahn Brothers' present store. To the right is the new six-story addition to be built. To the left is the arcade to be run through from San Pablo to Broadway. These improvements are the latest features of Oakland's extensive building program to be announced.

Kahn Brothers has a ground area of 40,000 square feet. The total area of space available for selling purposes is approximately 500,000 square feet. The building of this new building will give them a total of 245,000 square feet of space.

Kahn Brothers have erected many other structures in this city: their former place of business at 12th and Washington, 100x100; the Moose building, 12th and Clay, 100 x 100; Fantages theater building, 12th and Broadway, 150x100; the building, occupied by Heald's Bus-16th and San Pablo, 74x100. The total floor area of these buildings is greater than that of all of the buildings on the west side of Broadway, from 8th to 14th streets.

In addition to the 45,000 square feet of space gained by Kahn Brothers in the new building, they expect shortly after completion of this building to utilize 25,000 square feet basement space for selling purposes.

FOR FORTY-FOUR YEARS.
Kahn Brothers are just completing their forty-fourth year of business in this city. Established in 1879, they occupied but a small store room. They occupied various locations on Broadway and in 1893 erected a three story building on their own property at 12th and Washington streets.

From time to time they secured additional space, until they had leased 55 feet running through from 12th to 13th streets, having three floors of selling space. In 1913 they erected the building now occupied by them, at Broadway, Sixteenth street and San Pablo avenue, giving them the largest mercantile building in Oakland.

The fact that within less than ten years they have been compelled to secure additional space is indication not only of the growth of their business, but growth of the community. Realizing the future development of Oakland, they are taking these steps to keep abreast of the development.

E. W. Cannon is the architect in charge of the work, and McDonald and Kahn will be superintendents of construction.

Plans are being made to rush the construction of this building and an effort will be made to set a record for the city of Oakland.

IRON PRODUCTS CO. EARNINGS

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—New building construction and public improvements throughout the country will set a new high record this year, based on January's activities, in the opinion of a high official of the Iron Products Corporation. Measured by this corporation's sales with January net profits of nearly $200,000 and prospective net earnings for the first six months of this year at $1,000,000, expenditures for new construction for both private and public purposes should establish a new mark in 1923. ## TRAFFIC LAW BREAKERS RIVAL BOOZE RUNNERS

Traffic problems are becoming of greater magnitude than other police problems, and there are now more traffic violations in Oakland than bootleg operations, according to Commissioner Frank Colbourne.

"The traffic problem, says Colbourne, is getting greater every day and more policemen are needed."

"In Oakland as in every other city," says Colbourne, "the traffic question is driving the officials almost to distraction. The best problem, for instance, is a large and formidable proposition for the police to tackle, but it fades by comparison with the traffic question. The latter demands every day more and more policemen who are thus taken away from the regular old-time police duty of combating with crime and fighting liquor violations."

"The traffic squad is the costliest part of the police department. It is getting costlier all the time."

Old Dutch makes a clean sweep

A little Old Dutch actually does more cleaning work than the same quantity of gritty material. That's because grit merely touches the dirt with its sharp corners and, of course, more of it is required to do the job.

You use less energy when you employ Old Dutch, you finish the job quickly, you use less cleaning material; all because of its peculiar flaky character—the secret of its efficient cleaning action.

Its fine, flaky particles, a natural substance mined from the earth, lie flat, spread evenly and snugly over surfaces, and erase the dirt in a clean sweep, just like you see in the picture above. You don't have to go over the same surface again and again. Save money, time and energy by using Old Dutch for every cleaning job.

The Modern Aladdin's Lamp The "DX" Receiver

This receiver is a single circuit regenerative set, employing the same circuit as is used in the Grebe CR-5, one of the best known sets in the country. It has been designed especially for radiophone reception, and has a receiving range under normal night-time conditions of 900 miles.

All parts are mounted on a bakelite panel. It uses the Westinghouse WD-11 vacuum tube, or "peanut tube," and therefore does not require a storage battery.

The set comes "knocked down," with full instructions for assembling and wiring. The panel is already drilled to fit the instruments, and the only tools necessary to put it together are a screw-driver and a pair of pliers.

The "DX" Receiver is complete in every sense of the word. Both the "A" and "B" battery, the vacuum tube, and a pair of Frost or Murdock 2,000-ohm phones are included. A "DX" Receiver is on display at all times at the E. M. Sargent Co., 1200 Franklin Street, Oakland.

Tomorrow Named as Oakland Day at San Francisco Motor Show

DAY CITIES TOURISTS WILL TEND EXHIBIT

Setting Forms a Background for 1923 Motor Models.

By Jim Houlihan

Day has been designated Oakland Day at the San Francisco Automobile Show. Because of the holiday, there should be a large crowd from the Eastbay to the Exposition Auditorium, the Golden Gate city is staged most picturesque and complete exhibition of motor cars and accessories.

The opening last Saturday afternoon and evening has heavy sprinkling of Eastbay in the big structure, all intent upon studying and design of both open and motor vehicles. Thursday's day from this side of the bay the largest of the week.

San Francisco has covered itself in the manner it has and its display of 1923 automobiles into Northern California. The setting, in fact, is the most effective background of any in the seven annual staged by the dealers across the city.

ANY NEW MODELS. Models which had their presentation at either the Chicago or Chicago shows and shipped west in time for the show last month, are found in many of the exhibits. Because of the greater floor space has been possible for dealers to secure better line of cars.

A pet comparison to say and daily used by writers in the city, to say it outcashes events in New York, Chicago and Cleveland, never all things go by comparison. The intent upon studying the changes, if any, and there are no changes in most of the exhibits, which are considered the latest in mechanical excellence.

As been the case in all of the shows, the exhibits which are out of constant streams of people, are intent upon studying the changes, if any, and there are no changes in most of the exhibits, which are considered the latest in mechanical excellence.

NY OUTSIDE VISITORS. The spectators, one finds from about every town or Northern California. So all you see executives of a car or more from larger eastern cities.

Your country automobile owner wants to be as motor as his city friend who has opportunities to keep abreast of the times in changed design. Before he comes either to the show or San Francisco and in the afternoon or evening can get comprehensive viewpoint on leading car marketed in this city.

car executives flock west to supervise conferences of California dealers.

buyers are abroad in greater numbers than is usually the case at the show and shows in the city are productive of much business.

Record which has gone forth in the months declaring a short-automobiles which was very in the spring, finds its return in an earlier return to the thought of "Buy your car now."

to any dealer you may go to any among the scores of men and you learn in a time of the activity existing buyers.

far as the writer knows, no one Saturday night next will be able to say "I didn't check out during the week." Rather during the week of the show.

be "Now I wonder will be enough cars to take care of heavy spring trade."

land dealers are represented by more salesmen in each exhibit and a buyer from the Eastbay cities tomorrow when the main suggestion will be to go, the money will all spent.

Oriental Setting for San Francisco Auto Show Is Beautiful
From the Far East comes the theme used as a decorative background for the Automobile Show in the Exposition Auditorium. Visitors declare the motor car exposition is the most beautiful of San Francisco's many successful automotive affairs. A score of pretty little Chinese maidens mingle through the crowds and add a little further touch of Far East to the surroundings.

STATE AGAINST NEW AUTO BILL

One of the bills that will be acted upon by the legislature of California when it resumes its sessions next month is that introduced by Senator F. A. Arbutnot of Santa Barbara. The bill seeks to place all operators engaged in the transportation of persons or property for hire or compensation under the jurisdiction and control of the Railroad Commission and would levy a tax of 7 per cent on the gross receipts.

The bill would apply not only to what are known as franchised motor carriers, but to all types of operators who receive compensation for their services, except those engaged in the transportation of persons to or from a public school. It would apply to the vast majority of trucks now in use.

The California Automotive Conference points out that a proposition making provisions similar to those incorporated in Senator Arbutnot's measure appeared on the ballot at the recent general election in this state and was defeated by a vote of 499,458 to 136,271. Those who are opposing Senator Arbutnot's bill are bringing this argument to bear. They maintain that such a proposition is against the will of the people, as recently expressed. They seem to be confident the legislature as a whole will not favor legislation that would overthrow the expressed desire of the public, which was evidenced by the fact that on the ballot the proposed initiative measure was defeated in every county in the state.

DAIREN FOUND FINEST CITY IN MANCHURIA

The most striking city in China, says Trade Commissioner William L. Irvine, who has lately visited in behalf of the automotive division of the Department of Commerce, of the market for American motor vehicles in the Orient, is Dairen. Twenty-five years ago it was just a part of the Manchurian plain, bordering on the Yellow Sea. Today it is the best planned, best built and most attractive modern city in the East, rivaling in attractiveness some of the cities of America. It has all the modern improvements, trolleys, electric lights, sewage system, asphalted streets, and motor cars. Started by the Russians and completed by the Japanese, who still manage it, Dairen in point of modernness is far ahead of anything in Japan. It is a city of 150,000 white people, populated principally by Japanese and Chinese. It is the soy bean capital, the main port of Manchuria and the headquarters of the South Manchurian railway. Dairen, says Irvine, is worth a direct automobile dealer. It is too far from Tientsin to be covered with justice from that point. The whole of the Kwantung leased territory and South Manchuria to Changchun, the terminus of the South Manchurian railway and beginning of the Chinese Eastern, which connects with the Trans-Siberian, should be granted, Irvine thinks, as one agency field. This would include Mukden, the Manchurian capital.

Average Price of Cars $770 in 1922

The average automobile bought in 1922 cost $770. This was 14 cents below the price of 1921, when the average car sold for $784. What caused this low average?

French 16-Cylinder Is the Latest Gas Turbine Is Lure for Americans

Harry Moore, who sold Hudson and Essex automobiles in Oakland at one time for H. O. Harrison Company and who was a temporary resident of Oakland last fall, sends a letter to the Automotive Editor, dated January 16 at Nice, France.

One of its interesting comments describes the types of motors which are on display at the Paris Aviation Show, and in this connection a new 16-cylinder gasoline turbine capable of developing 400 horsepower, appealed to Harry more than any of the others he viewed.

Read his other gossip for a better impression of what he saw: Hotel de Suede, Avenue Du Marechal Foch, Nice, January 10, 1923.

Here's one from your "Special European Automobile Correspondent." One must be very careful here or you will get run down by a cyclist. But yesterday there was some talk at the Var race track and the motors did turn the way to the race track to see The Juniors. We had a fine race along the Riviera at a little suburb of Nice, called "California," and a little table in the sunlight where Harry was enjoying a cold bottle of real beer.

There is a little three wheeled cycle car with a two cylinder motor which is very popular here, while there are motor cycle cars, specially closed ones. Gasoline is worth about 1.05 per gallon, according to measure, and the big thing in the sales argument is "how far will she go per gallon?" I couldn't find a real automobile store in Paris. They make little pretenses here of salesrooms. Most all cars have little motor cycle horns and they keep a "Tat Tat" continually as they go along, and I should judge that they never stop a car here, as I have seen a number of old timers with rare entrance tomcats, and American tires. Motor oils are popular.

CHAIN DON'TS AND DO'S ARE GIVEN AUTOISTS

Never attach them to a spoke. Never fasten chains so tight that they cannot creep. Do not repair a broken link with wire. It will ruin the tire. Drape the chain over the tire with the clamps toward the rear of the car. The chains should be placed so that the hooks of the cross links are outside.

Start on Course Of Road Building

Fifty members of the highway departments of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware and Virginia, started a two weeks' session at the University of Maryland, to discuss the problems of road building.

NEW MODELS WIN ATTENTION OF DEALERS

There is much mystery and speculation in the motor fraternity and trade agent the new "Star specials," which have attracted attention wherever they have been shown on the coast. There has been much guessing just what the boss of the Durant family has in mind to do with these new models, so catchy in themselves and so attractive from a price standpoint.

Whether W. C. Durant plans to use the new special for the start of another trade fight with some competitor in the same price class, perhaps under a distinctive name, or whether after all he will be content to let it stand as a mere de luxe model in the Star line is a question, whose answer will have to come from the man higher up.

Rumor has it that Durant plans a visit to the Pacific coast soon and will then unravel the mystery of the Star special.

UNDERSIDE OF SPARE TIRES REQUIRE CARE

The under side of the spare tire is one part of a car that is often overlooked, but should be attended to regularly. This part becomes coated with mud and road oil, or the spare stands in a pool of water. Unless it is cleaned off, permanent injury may be done to the tread and to the casing if there are any breaks in the tread.

30 Passenger Cars For 1 Horse Vehicle

According to records, there are on wheels days five passenger automobiles operated to every motor truck in Chicago, Ill., while on Sunday the ratio is 30 to 1. Only one horse-drawn vehicle is seen to each 30 passenger cars.

One Motor Vehicle To Every Six Persons

Michigan has one motor vehicle to every six persons in the commonwealth. A total of 178,980 passenger automobiles were licensed in the state last year, an increase of 35 per cent over 1921.

EQUIPMENT IS CAR'S FEATURE

One of the first fully equipped stock models ever offered on the American market is undoubtedly the statement of most compelling interest to motorists in the Paige Company's announcement concerning the new Paige model, the 6-70 on display for the first time at the automobile show.

"We are using the term 'completely equipped' in the more exacting European sense," says Carl Christensen, manager of the Victory Motor Sales Company. This equipment consists of accessories selected and tested by our own engineers and built into the car in our own plants. By this policy the owner is assured of accessories not only desirable in themselves, but conveniences and luxuries that have been chosen for their fitness and suitability. They belong to the car in the best sense of the word.

"We have, we believe, carried this policy of complete and suitable equipment to the logical limit and the advantages to the motorist are many and obvious. The owner not only gets everything he could possibly desire of use, but he has the advantage of the factory's purchasing power and, moreover, there is no delay or annoyance incident to installation.

"When the purchaser accepts delivery on his Paige 6-70 he will receive two extra tires, the tire carriers being installed, one on each side of the car and so arranged as to form an important factor of design as well as of convenience. The bumpers fore and aft have also been designed to harmonize with external appearance. There is a luggage carrier on the rear and touring models and sedans are also equipped with aluminum guards.

"Improved curtains of the finest material are carried in the doors and there is an extra large plate glass in the rear curtain.

"The instruments are assembled under a single glass on the dash and include, besides gasoline gauge and the like, a cigar lighter and a clock. Other valuable features of this complete equipment are a motometer, permanent robe rail, tools carried in right front door with lock, improved type of drum headlights, sun visor, rear-view mirror, combination tail and stop light, kick plates on the running board and automatic windshield wiper."

Extras on Sport Model Attract

The Durant sport touring with its many extras is causing considerable comment, according to Roy Stuart, manager of the Durant-Stevens Motor Co.

"We have taken numerous orders for this car and now all we hope is that the factory in Oakland will be able to supply us," Stuart says. "People seem to admire a sport model at an automobile show more than any other car. They seem to fill right in with the decorative schemes and the brilliant lights."

ADD CAB MODEL TO 1923 LINE OF AUTOMOBILES

A new "cab," an enclosed car, designed to seat two persons, has been added to the 1923 line of the Oldsmobile and is on exhibition at the show for the first time. This new model embodies many unique features in closed car construction, and is mounted on the four-cylinder chassis.

With this addition of this new model the Olds Motor Works of Lansing, Mich., has practically three new units in this year's line. These include the new "cab," the brougham, a five-passenger closed car, recently announced, and the new sport roadster, put on the market a short time ago. All three attractive models are on display in the J. W. Leavitt & Co. exhibit, in which booth are salesmen from H. G. Markham Co.

The new cab will be finished in standard Olds blue and gold striping and appropriately trimmed. The upholstery will be of gray Spanish leather in straight pipe pattern. The inside top lining will be a taupe valour and the doors will be finished in the same shade of gray as the seats.

Genuine plate glass windows have been used and roll curtains have been installed in the back windows.

Extreme roominess has been provided throughout with a 43-inch seat, 26-inch doors, being 44 inches high. A cushion 18 inches deep has been used and a space of 31 inches from the back of the front seat to the instrument board has been provided. The distance from the floor to the roof of the car is 44 inches. A 43-inch space from the back of the seat to the toe board has been allowed.

Standard equipment in this new model will include transmission lock, cowl ventilator, windshield wiper and visor, dome light, drum headlights, cowl lights and a double windshield the upper part ventilating. The luggage compartment under the rear deck has a capacity of twelve cubic feet. The compartment back of the front seat has a capacity of three cubic feet.

The new eight sport model roadster is finished in a weathered bronze and features include a special rank for carrying golf clubs, and extra roomy rear apartment. Equipment include courtesy step lights, stop signal, rear view mirror, bumpers front and rear, motometer, low slung spot light, clear lighter, windshield wiper, windshield wiper and double tire carrier.

The new brougham is a high-grade enclosed car, designed to sell at a medium price, and mounted on the four-cylinder chassis. This car has been made exceptionally roomy with a wide back seat and two comfortable movable front seats. Windows are extremely wide making it possible to convert this car into the equal of an open car for summer use.

GERALDINE FASHIONS THE HOME

Re Geraldine's SHOULDER

Listen, World
Seldom if ever have I been so uplifted as on the reading of the following definition of Man. I have long desired to find a mean wallow at most of my male acquaintances, including about a dozen bosses who have had the bad taste to can me at some time or other. This is my chance. The Black Hand had nothing on me when it came to planning RRevenge! I'm going to get numerous copies of this article printed and broadcast them. Also I'll ask for a double allotment of illustrating space in

Men. "Men are what women marry. They drink and smoke and swear but do not go to church. Perhaps if they were honest they would. They are more logical than women, and also more zoological. Both men and women sprung from monkeys, but women sprung further than men."

Comes one who signs himself "Brute" and speaks without fear or favor of several matters interesting to me. It was not possible to give his letter in full. It would have taken the major part of this page. I was forced to cut, but I've left as much as I could of his main argument. I.e., his reply to W. S. P.'s defense of missionaries.

"Dear Geraldine— I can not remember Treason Heresy's attack on missionaries. I doubt if she knew what she was talking about, unless she has been where they work, or has otherwise got her information first-hand. I fail to get your history of significance that you mention in your prelude to W. S. P.'s Wanting some publicity? A free want add for foreign mission."

"Hard words? No not a bit of it. Just Gospel Truth. If you are headed for Purgatory as that bird writes you (by the way, is he a kin to W. S. P.), then I am on a to-boggan headed straight to Hell. I do, and say what I like so long as I stay out of jail, or physically able to defend myself."

"Poor old man who has read his Good Book through the smoked glass of some creed, and for fifty years you say he has been in the dark. In my poor way I am going to try and lead him a short way into the light about missionaries, with your help by a few facts. I have stated. Christianity takes Judaism for granted? rejects it in part as a merely preparatory stage, in part reinterprets it, and does not submit what it accepts to rigorous scrutiny."

"Christianity was the interpretation of the Hebrew Laws, or Religion, by Jesus Christ. Today, there is a thousand and one creeds, based on that interpretation and teachings. In my opinion, Jesus was the only Christian that ever lived and practiced what he preached, and he last about 18 months—seventeen months and 23 days longer than he would in this age, except, possibly, the Vaudeville Stage in Yankee Land. So ended Christianity in its true form. The nearest approach to it today is the United States of America."

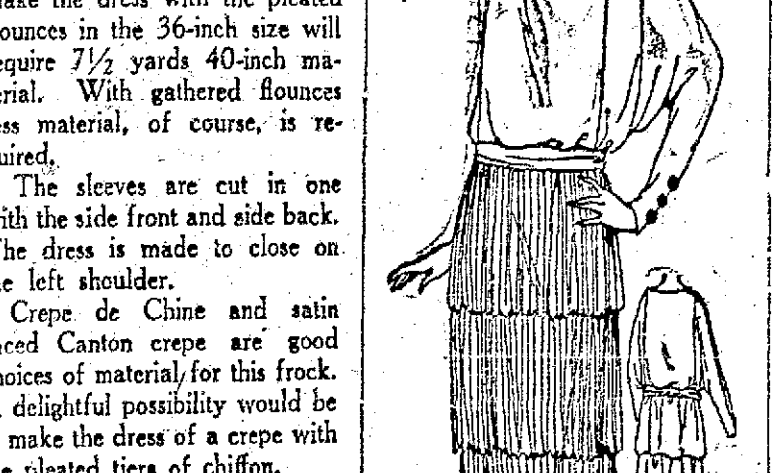

"Graham and glorious young nation, the U. S. A., not any particular Religious creed, but by the freedom from any particular creed, and the natural instinct of man to stick together for the benefit of the whole. When in Rome, do as Romans do. Our forefathers started this little game and we have compelled them that came later to play the game. Get that, compelled, and THAT IS THAT. There was no Religion attached to the compelling. The Indians would not play the game. Did we try to civilize him by Christianizing him? We did not. We eliminated him with the implements of war. We tried to educate him—What happened—A few were successful, the majority went back to the wilds, threw a blanket over their shoulders, and the seat out of their trousers and started to grunt. How do you know? I was born of a tribe of Indian fighters and not far from the reservation of the Cherokee, the wisest Indians in America. So much for the touch of Missionaries on the American Indian."

"The touch of Christian Missions opened the ports of China and Japan? My history told me that Commodore Perry, U. S. N., with a fleet of American ships at his back opened the ports of China and Japan, and not at the instigation of Missionaries. And that is of Historical significance. Civilization backed by the sword and bullets have opened the ports of the Pagan world, or any other old port where there was commerce to be gained and believed. I know the Missionaries did not venture very far from the protection of their guns, swords and bullets. And some of those Pagan people had it in for those Christians. I know that if they were killed in battle with a Christian, they would be considered a hero."

The Adventures of Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy by Johnny Gruelle

WHEN Raggedy Andy and the Knight and his little boy came to the Magic Castle they found a great crowd of funny looking creatures sitting in front of the castle. "I wonder who these funny creatures can be!" Raggedy Andy said. Just then, Raggedy Ann put her head out of a window in the castle and called, "You fool Raggedy Andy! Those creatures have been sitting out there ever since you left. And they all want to get in the castle. They chased Mr. Doodle and his wife away and they chased the Boliver and the Snarlyboodle away!"

When the funny looking creatures heard that they all jumped up and ran to the castle. "We will get in the castle and chase all of you away!" And they all started to chase Raggedy Ann and the Knight and his wife and little boy.

But Raggedy Ann said to the Knight, "Instead of letting them chase us away as they did the Boliver and the others what do you say if we chase these creatures away?"

"All right!" the Knight agreed. So when the creatures started to chase Raggedy Ann and the Knight away, Raggedy Ann and the Knight just stood still. And then, of course, the funny looking creatures did not know what to do and so they stood still. Then who should come running out of the woods but Mr. and Mrs. Doodle and the Boliver. "Now we'll chase them!" the Boliver and the Snarlyboodle cried, and with the help of the Knight and Raggedy Ann the strange creatures were running in all directions.

But although Raggedy Ann and the Knight and the others chased the funny creatures until they were tired, still the funny creatures were all about the castle, for, instead of running away from the castle, the creatures just ran around the castle.

When the Knight and the Snarlyboodle and Mr. Doodle and the Boliver cried as they sat down and wiped their foreheads with their handkerchiefs, "That was a lot of fun, but we haven't chased the funny looking creatures away! What shall we do, Raggedy Ann?" Raggedy Ann was just about to say, "I don't know!" when all the funny creatures began chasing Raggedy Ann and his friends.

But Raggedy Ann and his friends did not run away. They just stood still and watched the funny creatures run around them.

HARRIET and the PIPER

Level-Headed Love Stolen Love Tempestuous Love
By Kathleen Norris

"You don't imagine the man is serious," Richard asked. "I don't know," Harriet answered at random. "They've—they've hardly known each other three weeks!"

"Ah, well! And she's only seventeen," her father said. "Distract her mind, if she's inclined to mope a bit. Get riding horses!" No time to think—no time to trim her course. Harriet must plunge blindly ahead now.

"Mr. Carter, would you—if you think wise—give your mother a hint of this?" Madame Carter is romantic, you know. "Oh, certainly! Certainly!" he said approvingly. "I'll speak to her. We must keep Nina a little girl this summer. And, Miss Field—" was said with only a slight change in the pleasant voice. But it brought a sudden change in her relationship, a tightening of the bonds that were all Harriet's world now.

Miss Field. I may say here and now that it is an unmixing privilege, in my estimation," Richard Carter said, simply, "that my daughter, and my son, too, for the matter of that, should have the advantage of your influence, and your example, at this time. Of course, it infinitely simplifies my own problem. But I don't mean only that. I mean that with your knowledge of the world, of work and poverty—I know them, too, I know their value—you are infinitely qualified to balance their whole social vision just now. I have never been unappreciative of the value of a simple, good, unadorned woman in my household. I have seen the effect in a thousand ways. But at the present moment I hardly know where I could turn without you. I can only hope that in some way the Carters may be able to repay you!"

The secretary's shining head appeared, and she rested her elbow on the table and pressed a white handkerchief across her eyes for a moment of silence. When she faced him again her face was a little pale, and her magnificent eyes heavy with tears.

"I only wish I were—half what you say!" And without another word she stood up, folded into a tiny oblong the paper upon which she had been making a few notes, and went slowly to the library door. More deeply stirred than she had been since the days of her passionate girlhood, she turned on the threshold for a look of farewell. But Richard Carter had left the desk, and was kneeling on one knee before his wife, his hand on her forehead, his face as white as paper.

"Oh, what shall I do?" she whispered. "He trusts me to protect her! Oh, why didn't I—the moment I know that Royal was thinking of her—why didn't I go to him then, and make a clean breast of it all? And now—now I am in a fix. And they trust me and love me—and what shall I do? Oh, God!"

Harriet, sinking on her knees beside the bed, "You know that I am good—You know that I can really help them. You know how I have chosen what was fine and good, all these years, how I have longed for an opportunity to be useful and happy! Don't let him come into my life again, and spoil it!"

It was partly the jealousy of age for youth, of departed beauty for beauty in its prime, but it was mainly actuated by the old lady's sense of pride, her firm belief that there was some mysterious merit of birth in the Carter blood, and that to friendship with the Carters a mere upstart, a secretary, a workman's woman, could not with any justice aspire. In a thousand ways, many of them approaching actual mendacity, she undermined Harriet's usefulness, and annoyed and distracted the domestic force. If Harriet decided that the weather was too warm for an out-of-door luncheon, Madame Carter pleasantly overruled her, and there was her running to and fro for the change. Messages undelivered by the old lady were attributed to the secretary's carelessness, and there was more than one occasion when Harriet had no choice between silence toward Madame Carter or the flat accusation of untrustworthiness.

Every hour under his roof, however, helped to convince her that Richard Carter was unaware of very little that transpired there.

It again. Don't let Richard Carter lose faith in me, and despise me! I don't know what's the matter with me," sobbed Harriet, burying her brimming eyes in the pillows; never cry, I haven't cried like this for years and years! I think I'm losing my mind!"

The move to Huntington was made quickly and quietly, and last weeks followed, to Harriet weeks of almost cloudless content. She and Nina walked and rode, swam and practised their tennis stroke, maddened about in a canoe, motored over miles of exquisite country. Madame Carter was often with them, suggesting, disapproving, meddling, awaiting her chance to score. Ward, early in August, after a serious talk with Harriet, joined some friends for a motor run of three thousand miles, and presently was sending them post cards from Monterey and Tahoe. There was naturally no entertaining or formal social life for the family this summer, but Richard almost always brought men down for golf, over the week-ends, and seemed if quiet and reserved, to be well content.

They have been in the new home only a few days when Harriet had reason to stop short in a busy morning of unpacking, with one hand upon her heart, and a great satisfaction in her eyes. Nina, Blondin, announced the sensational news that he had broken his ankle. He was with friends at Newport, and must remain there now for weeks, perhaps a month. Nina was pleased to write him, and to give his regards to Miss Field, and ask her not to forget him.

My Marriage Problems

Childe Garrison's New Phase Of Revelations of a Wife

THE DELICATE WAY MADGE HAD TO HANDLE ALLEN DRAKE.
Allen Drake's pointed tribute made me flush in embarrassed fashion. Then I paled in the anger at myself which the foolish school-girl trick always rouses in me. I can control my features, my eyes, my expression, but a personal reference, especially if it be complimentary, almost invariably sends the blood to my cheeks.

For a wretched second or two I told myself that I would prefer the slur I had imagined in Mr. Drake's voice when he learned of my recognition of the cuneiform characters in the code, to the hearty admiration he had just voiced.

I forced myself to meet his eyes, and found that the indolent smiling hint of condescension which I so detested had gone from them, that instead there was in them a distinctly new expression, of camaraderie, of intellectual equality, my petty embarrassment faded. It was replaced by a resolve to meet this new demeanor more than half way and to justify his faith by the most earnest endeavor that was in me.

That he saw my embarrassment and took the surest way to banish it, I realized when directly after his flattering little speech he turned to my father with the most matter-of-fact air possible. "Chief," he said, "will you check me up while I dictate these names to Mrs. Graham?"

"I WARN YOU!" My father put up a protesting hand. "Indeed, we will do no such thing," he said authoritatively. "You must get some rest before you exercise your brain any more. The morning will do for this. I would not have brought my daughter here, save for the fact that I thought it would be a relief to you to know."

"Relief!" Allen Drake exploded. "She's just naturally saved my life, that's all. And as for rest, I can't close an eye until I've provided her with every last molecule of help there's in me. And that you know very well."

There was a boyishness in his mien which I never had seen before, but there was also in his voice an intonation that betrayed the inexorable will beneath the careless manner. My father yielded at once. "I suppose I shall have to let you have your way," he said resignedly, "at least as far as dictating the names goes. But I warn you."

"A NONSENSICAL" CODE.
"Tardion, Chief, I know I'm an important man, but my opinion after dictating the names is distinctly up to Mrs. Graham. If she needs my help—further—" he paused, looked at me hopefully. "But I don't!" I interjected quickly, warned by the real anxiety in my father's eyes, that the brilliant and the names I had in danger of seriously injuring his health by his persistence in working beyond his strength. "That is," I amended, sensing, suddenly that I was on delicate ground. "I don't have anything but the names until I have a chance to go over my old notes, and then I'll give you a list of names. You father will check them. I do not need to tell you to take care of the list, and destroy it when you have finished. I have the names in code, but I think it was better to report to you to write them out."

"If you don't mind I will put them down in a code of my own which I once worked out for my own amusement," I said diffidently. "It is an arbitrary one, though, but I think it is not so bad as the one I'm not afraid of anybody deciphering it—it is too nonsensical."

Mr. Drake looked at me oddly, but made no comment until I had finished transcribing the lists of names he gave me. Then as I was to go, he said with almost too nonchalant an air to be quite convincing: "When you bring back your dope I wish you'd let me have a glimpse of that 'nonsensical, childish' code of yours!"

The salt in the grease is the best for hot cakes. When you are making salt in a bag and rub the grease with this instead of greasing it.

Where He Could Go For 30 Cents
After the latest election, the members of the Speakers' Bureau of Tammany Hall had a banquet to celebrate the Democratic victory in New York. The newly elected Lieutenant-Governor, George Lunn, came down from his political brethren in the love feast.

After several dependable local orators had been heard, the toastmaster, an old Tammany war-horse, called upon Mr. Lunn for a speech. In introducing Lunn, the toastmaster rather gauded at him for some of his personal beliefs. He said that Lunn formerly had shown Socialistic leanings and that he still was a Prohibitionist. In fact, as the saying goes, he rather got under Lunn's skin.

Slowly the latter rose to his feet. "Gentlemen," he said, "the usages of polite society and the nature of this occasion conspire to prevent me from telling your chairman exactly what I think of him for his remarks in presenting me to this distinguished assemblage. But his words and my reaction to those words bring to mind an incident which happened not long ago. I am going to tell you the story of that incident and if, in the point of it, the gentleman sees a personal application, I shall not be sorry."

"Some three months ago, fourteen of us were waiting in a line at the Grand Central Station to purchase fares on outgoing trains. Some among us had but a few minutes to spare. All of us, naturally, were in a hurry to transact the business and get ourselves and our luggage aboard the cars.

"All of a sudden an inebriated person burst like an alcoholic bombshell among us. Ignoring the rules of procedure, he eluded his way to the front, elbowing and jostling those already in line, until he reached the ticket window. Upon the shelf he slammed down a quarter and a nickel and in a loud voice stated his wishes.

"Give me a ticket for San Francisco," he said. "You can't go to San Francisco for thirty cents," stated the ticket seller.

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE BOOT MOUSE.

The day after the big snow storm when Uncle Wiggily tossed white balls for Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow to chase after, Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzie called to the bunny rabbit gentleman:

"Uncle Wiggily, I'm sorry, but you'll have to get up early once more."

"What's the matter this time?" asked Mr. Longears.

"It is raining and making slush of the snow," said Nurse Jane, "and I can't go to the store."

"Oh, I'll go to the store for you," offered Uncle Wiggily. "I'll put on my big rubber boots and I'll splash

"My goodness! There is something here!"

through the slush and snow like anything.

"Merrily I go.

Through the slush and snow!"

That was the bunny rabbit gentleman, and he felt so jolly and gay that he slid down the banister rail backward and nearly bumped into Nurse Jane.

"Oh, my, you feel quite spry this morning!" said the muskrat lady.

"Never better!" chuckled Uncle Wiggily, "and my rheumatism doesn't hurt at all. I'll get my breakfast, put on my rubber boots and go slush-slush to the store."

But when Uncle Wiggily took off his slippers and began putting on his big rubber boots he suddenly stopped when the left paw boot was nearly on and cried:

"There's something in it!"

"In what?" asked Nurse Jane.

"In my rubber boot," answered Uncle Wiggily.

"Yes, I suppose your paw is in it," laughed Nurse Jane. "If you think you're going to catch me on that old joke, Uncle Wiggily, you have another guess coming to you! Of course, I know your paw is in your rubber boot!"

"No, I'm not joking at all, said Uncle Wiggily. "There's something else in my rubber boot. I felt it as soon as I put my paw in it. It's something soft. Did you drop a ball of yarn in my rubber boot, Nurse Jane?"

"Of course not!" answered the muskrat lady. "There isn't anything there."

"Oh, yes, there is," insisted the bunny rabbit. He put his front paw down inside the rubber boot and felt around.

"My goodness! There is something here!" cried the bunny, quickly drawing out his paw.

"Yes, if you please, I'm in here," squeaked a little voice, and up out of the boot ran a tiny mouse.

"Who are you?" asked Nurse Jane.

"I suppose you could call me a Boot Mouse, since I was in Uncle Wiggily's rubber boot," answered the tiny creature. "Oh, I hope I haven't done any harm," she went on. "I was looking for a warm place to sleep and crawled inside the rubber boot. I didn't suppose any one would mind."

"And I don't mind—not in the least," laughed Uncle Wiggily. "You are welcome to stay here as long as you like, little boot mouse. But, as I have to wear these rubber things out in the snow, let me get you a little bed in the bunny rabbit's boot, after Nurse Jane had given her some crumbs last night."

When the boot mouse was again asleep in the bunny rabbit's boot, there came into the hollow stump bungalow the bad Bob Cat. Now, a cat will always chase a mouse, you know, and when the boot mouse heard the Bob Cat the mouse peeked out of the top of the boot.

"You can't catch me!"

"Yes, I can!" snarled the Bob Cat. He made a dive for the mouse, but she slid down away inside the toe of the rubber boot, where the Bob Cat couldn't get her.

Then the Bob Cat raced around so hard, all excited over seeing a mouse, that he made a big racket, and Uncle Wiggily heard it and telephoned for the Police Dog, who came and arrested the Bob Cat, taking him off to jail.

"Thank you, little boot mouse," said the bunny to his new friend. "Only for you the Bob Cat might have sneaked up and nibbled my ears," said the bunny rabbit gentleman. "You are as good as a watch dog."

And the boot mouse lived in the hollow stump bungalow all winter. Now, if the jumping Jack doesn't think the milk pitcher is a top and try to spin it when it's full of molasses, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the Bob Cat's bunions.

Pretending

Life—

Often hides behind a mask—

Because we would not let you know—

The secret gnawings of our hearts—

It is a Spartan sign of old—

Which held full sway—

In olden day—

When only brave could hope to conquer—

And so today we will not whine—

To those who march with us in line—

Nor seek to share our secret troubles—

With those who care but for their own—

For if 'twere known—

That all our days we go repining—

Nor see the clouds with silver lining—

Folks would but smile—

And tarry but a little while—

Then leave us—

And make but light of things that grieve us—

Each day I go in line of duty—

To counting room where many toil—

And sitting there with earnest faces—

On which Old Time has left his traces—

Are those who once were maidens fair—

With visions rare—

Of what the future held in store—

For maiden pictures her life's story—

Enshrined in glory—

Forever floats in Fairyland—

But stealthy years bring cruel waking—

And though within her heart is breaking—

We never know—save that the glow—

Of youthful dreams has slipped away—

And each new day—

Her mirror says—"You're growing old—

And still your dream has not come true"—

So when I come where they toil daily—

They jeer at me and laugh quite gaily—

"Poor married man—

Now, don't you wish you were like us?"

And sing—

"There'll be no wedding bells for me!"

But smilingly—e'en though I lied—

I firmly say—"I'm satisfied"—

For each of us must run his bluff—

I leave with them a magazine—

And on the front there is a scene—

That would bring joy to any mother—

A sweet bouquet of baby faces—

And from these maidens—growing old—

I glean a story—never told—

For they crowd close with yearning gaze—

Their eyes reflecting dreams of days—

All free from guile—

And as they kiss each baby face—

A holy light now takes its place—

A mother's smile.

The Make-up Makes Up His Mind

TODAY'S SHORT STORY, BY Ad Schuster

THE editorial rooms of newspapers are full of short story writers, poets and dramatists. It is only once in a while the fever for fiction spreads to the composing room but, once there, it may rage without suspicion. The writer of news simply cannot picture a printer in any other role just as the printer, as a rule, knows the reporter for an impractical fellow whose fingers are all thumbs.

Ray Cross, on the make-up, wanted to write fiction. He longed for the nerve to walk out of the composing room for the last time, quit punching the clock forever, and set himself up as a writer.

"It isn't as if I have not written some possible stuff," he told his young wife. "I'm almost sure I can make good." Then he would count his money and balance it against the month in which he might wait for returns. "It's too big a risk," he always decided. "No, I've got to hold onto the job a while longer." No one in the Messenger office knew of his ambitions.

When Ray Cross explained that it was Fenmore Deed, managing editor, who was responsible for his start as a writer, each congratulated him and said it was not every aspiring author who had the same opportunity.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK

By Lee Pape

The doerbell rang Sunday afternoon and I went to the door and it was Mr. Parkins to see my sister Gladis, having a rapped up package looking like a box of candy and I went in the parlor with him thinking he might open the package before Gladis came down, which he didn't, just tawdled instead, saying, Well, Benny, what's the news, if any? How's your good health?

Good, I said, that's something for Gladis. I said.

I moved on, Mr. Parkins said, not mentioning anything about opening it, and Gladis came in saying, Good afternoon, did you ever see such a lovely afternoon considering such weather as we have having. O you nifty man you've gone and bought me another big box of candy. Now you really must stop being so extravagant because I'd be every bit just as satisfied with some little little trifle such as really nothing at all. Now I should be very tired with you if you insist on spending your money on me so lavishly, she said.

Not saying anything about opening it either, and I went around to Pudd's Simkins's a while and when I came back Mr. Parkins was just going out the front door and I went in the parlor and Gladis was opening the package and it was a big box of candy, me saying, G, it's a new kind, isn't it, Gladis.

Yes, Sweetie, Sweet Shop, I never heard of it, Gladis said. And underneath and looked up at it, saying, G, Gladis, it's marked $1.25 on the bottom.

Which it was, and Gladis turned it upside down to see, saying, How dare he hand me a 2 pound box of candy that cost one cent a dollar and a quarter, who does he think I am, I'll soon show him whether he can be a cheap sport around me, yes, the idea. And she looked in the box of candy and started to pick up other things and bang them down again, me saying, Wait a minute, Gladis, didn't you tell him you wanted something cheap instead of extravagant. I'll take the candy if you don't want it, Gladis, a dollar and a quarter seems all right to me, I said. Saying it about 5 times without her paying any attention and she hid the candy just like she hides her other boxes no matter what they cost.

QUICK AND EASY.

One housewife keeps a supply of bottled cocoa syrup on her pantry shelf, and all she has to do is add a large spoonful to a cup of hot milk for the hurried breakfast, saving her time for other preparations. The syrup consists of one cup of cocoa, one cup of sugar and a pinch of salt. Add to this a cup of water and you have it.

Your crocheted ball will not run away from you if you keep it in an old candy box, with a tiny hole in the lid for the thread to run through. After you are finished working, needle, crocheting and ball can be kept inside the box until you are ready for it again.

Dr. Gaurier's Mosaic

WORKERS ALL

"Wherever you go you will find the masses"

Are always divided in just these two classes: The people who lift and the people who are lifted. And add enough you will find, too. There is only one lifter to twenty who are lifted.

There are in fact three classes: the who must be supported by others, the who must be supported by others, the who must be supported by others.

The people who give back to the wealth as much as they take out, the who are called self-supporting. The third class, those who give back much more than they take out, they are benefactors.

The duty of the State is to inculcate through its schools public service institutions the work-spirit and to insist that each citizen is expected to be at least self-supporting. Along with the offer of thorough training of hand and brain to efficiency and production.

The deliberate shirkers and I-won't-work crowd are a load for workers to carry. Ella Wheeler Wilcox was supported by seventeen near and distant relatives who were exceedingly generous. If their remittances did not come through. It prompted the poem from which the above lines are taken.

Work is man's greatest blessing. It is estimated that few hours work on the part of each inhabitant would take the world problem of food and clothing and necessary wants.

Carlyle said: "Produce, even if only the infinitesimal product, in heaven's name produce!"

AUTOMOBILE MEN OF NORTH STATE TO GATHER HERE

Largest Convention of Kind in Oakland Set for Next Monday, Tuesday.

The northern-division convention of the California Automobile Trade Association, which will be held next Monday and Tuesday, will be one of the largest of its kind ever held in this city, according to word given out by William Mackay, chairman of the convention committee of the local association here.

Delegates are coming from all parts of the state to discuss vital business problems in this city Monday and Tuesday and learn at first hand about proposed legislation that will affect the motor car dealers, repair men and garage men of the state. There are a hundred and one of these bills and these men want to know what their legislative committee is going to do to combat them.

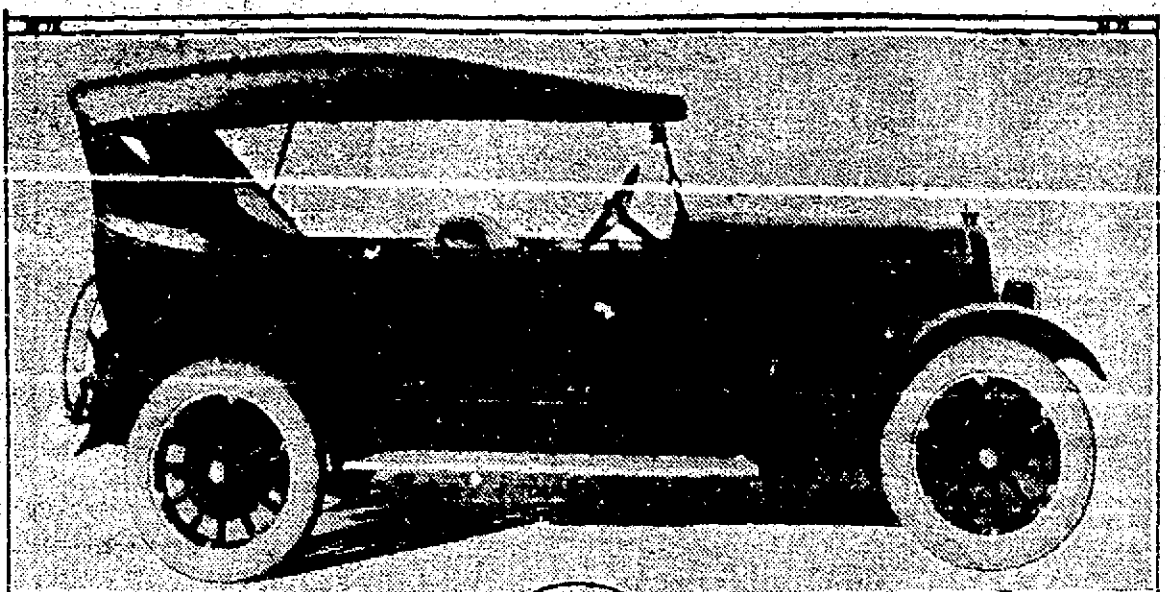

Harry S. Mason of Los Angeles, president, will be in the chair, assisted by Robert W. Martland, secretary-manager of the state body, and Nelson N. Scottier, president of the Alameda county organization. The first day will be devoted to craft meetings and a banquet will be staged Monday night in the Hotel Oakland which several hundred are expected to attend. At this dinner three of the best-known men in the country in their respective lines will speak. They are F. E. Moskovics, vice-president and general manager of Nordyke & Marmon, who will talk on motor car production; C. A. Musselman of the Chilton Publications, who will speak on the dealers' problem; and Andy Smith, famous football coach of the University of California, who will tell the automobile men how to apply football methods to business.

The convention promises to be one of the best ever held in the West, and from present indication there will be more to interest the automobile men than ever before.

Motor Train Takes Place of Steam Line

A motor rail train, five-ton A. L. C. chassis and trailer, is being used successfully in the Mildura District of Victoria, the dried fruit center of Australia, according to Trade Commissioner J. W. Sanger. The main car carries sixty-five passengers and the trailer ten, the trailer being devoted mainly to freight. This train makes four round trips daily between Mildura and Merbein at an average speed of between thirty and thirty-five miles an hour, over tracks of the Victorian railways. The steam train which it replaces made only two daily round trips. With gasoline selling at 3 shillings per imperial gallon the cost of running this motor train is only about 7 pence per mile.

AMERICA HOLDS KEY, SAYS ACE

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 10.—That America holds the key to world peace, as well as the revival of world commerce and prosperity; and that the key is in the form of an American loan to Germany in this crisis, is the contention of Captain E. V. Rickenbacker, America's ace of aces during the world war and now a motor car manufacturer. He has been unfolding the details of his plan for future world peace at banquets given in his honor by owners of Rickenbacker cars in the various cities of the country. "The real menace of world peace today is the deplorable condition in which the German people find themselves," recites the former ace, who recently returned from a ten weeks' survey of the situation in England, France, Italy, Germany and other European countries. "Germany is tottering on the brink of Bolshevism and if she falls it will inevitably lead to an alliance between Germany, Russia and Turkey with Japan as a possible partner."

Crude Rubber Average Is 8.3 Pounds to Tire

AN average of 8.3 pounds of crude rubber is used in the making of an automobile tire, and the average inner tube contains about two pounds of crude rubber. Approximately 45 pounds of cotton is required to produce the average casing.

brink of Bolshevism and if she falls it will inevitably lead to an alliance between Germany, Russia and Turkey with Japan as a possible partner. "Here is a 'yellow peril' that foreshadows another war within the next decade—a war by comparison with which the last one will be a mere sham battle. "It is not my intention to advocate that America finance from her own pocket any of the European countries. Not a bit of it. I am in favor of collecting every cent of the $11,000,000,000 war debt owed us. "But we can finance Germany so that she can pay her indemnity to the Allies and they in turn pay the $11,000,000,000 debt they owe us."

Ferry Company Will Open Season Earlier

Plans are now being made by the Richmond-San Rafael Ferry Company, the connecting link between the Eastbay cities and the great bay, to open its summer schedule earlier this year than last. According to Charles Van Damme, president of the company, indications point to an exceptional volume of touring during the early spring and continuing well into the fall.

Stork Brings Joy To Automobile Man

Harry Trueblood, assistant to C. M. Steves, sales manager of the Durant Motor company of California, is a proud father of a boy, who came into the world weighing seven and a half pounds. Mrs. Trueblood and the youngster are doing nicely and Harry is spending around cigars to the entire office staff at the factory. The money loaned to Germany to be expended at the dictation of the United States. It will cost America nothing in the end, but instead, will retain the respect of the world and regain even the friendship of the Allies."

NINETEEN SALES, 3-DAY RECORD

With a record of nineteen new and used cars sold during the three days, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, the Victory Motor Sales Co., Carl Christensen, Paige and Jewett dealers here, is going ahead for the big spring drive for trade. The sales of nineteen automobiles in three days is rather unusual in this city during February, and it means there is a huge demand for automobiles of all kinds," states Carl Christensen, manager of the company. "We are now taking orders for the new Paige 6-70. The first showing of the new Paige cars was made at the San Francisco automobile show, and the factory branch staff is taking many orders."

AUTO OWNER HAS CHANCE FOR FREE VACATION

Here is a chance for a motor car owner to have a nice quiet vacation in Lake country. Chet Johnson, a stockholder in the Durant Corporation, has announced that he will give to the first Durant car to visit his resort on Clear Lake $10 in cash and a week's rent free in one of the spacious cabins. In order to make this a more or less competitive proposition, Johnson is announcing it before the camp is really opened so as to give every Durant owner a good chance to be the winner. He is asking, according to the local corporation, that all who compete for this prize travel over the state highway from Ukiah. At present Johnson is in Anaheim, California, and will soon be at his Laurel Beach camp on Clear Lake.

RHYMES OF THE ROAD

Since early youth I've sought the truth
In science and psychology.
Disdaining pills to cure the ills
Which racked my physiology.
And every day in every way
I'm better, oh, by far!
But where's the thought which will do aught
To start a balking car?

Though I repeat in form complete
Those words of optimism,
All my remarks create no sparks
Within her organism.
To her I read Doc Coue's creed,
In which I've fully trusted:
Despite my talk she still will balk.

There must be something busted!
Where can one find the master mind
Whose formula will heal
A punctured tire or mend a wire
Or tighten up a wheel?
And who has heard the magic word

That's proved of any use
In making him self-starters hum
When they are out of juice.
Those verbal rules may help with mules
As well as with humanity:
We've made them go by easy flow
Of choice home-made profanity.
But autos don't—or maybe won't—
Heed oral invocation.
Doc Coue's laws fall there, because
They lack imagination.

Monsieur Gavotte, who is struggling with our justly famous language, desires to know why it's called a shipment when it goes in a car and a cargo when it goes in a ship.

She wandered through the Motor Show
And watched each demonstration.
She heard the salesman's language flow
With spellbound fascination.
She looked at motors, wheels and clutch,
She learned of strokes and bores:
The car she bought at last had such Cute handles on the doors.

"Now is the winter of our discontent made glorious summer by this fair day of the show."

UNCLE EB, HE SAYS—
There's nothing more conducive to hospitality or more calculated to make a motorist feel a kindness toward his fellow man than to pick up a stranger on a cold corner and have him say, patronizingly, "Do you know, I've been thinking seriously of getting me a neat little boat like this for running around in the sloppy weather and putting my big car up for the winter!"

Employment Takes Jump in Detroit

In Detroit 79 motor car manufacturers, members of the N. A. C. C., employed in January 192,000 men, as compared to 58,000 men but fifteen months ago. In the third week of January over 1000 men were added to the payroll.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

J. S. B.—No, dear reader, the letters F. O. B. do not necessarily mean "Fall Of Bumps." They might mean "Fierce On Buyer," by the time the railroads collect their.
Thomas Q.—You inquire as to what is best to do with a 1914 Blizz left you by a deceased uncle and which appears reluctant to develop more than five miles an hour. We'd suggest that you arrange for a collision with a truck owned by some unpopular and well-insured corporation. If you hesitate about the personal risk, let your wife's brother drive it.
W. J. B.—You ask if we know anything about a flier. Nothing but a few good stories. Send stamp for these if desired.

Ambitious and original newspaper reporter, at liberty, offers services to any enterprising journal. Left last position suddenly because he omitted to state that bandits used high-powered cars and police gave chase in ditto.

UNCLE EB, HE SAYS—
I see in the paper that some ten thousand miles of magnificent new highways have been mapped out for the coming year. That encourages us to hope they'll finish some of those they mapped out so well back in 1919.

COMPANY HEAD CUMES TO SEE BIG AUTO SHOW

John N. Willys to Be Honored Guest at Banquet Given by Dealers.

John N. Willys, president of the Willys Overland Company of Toledo, arrived in Oakland Monday and left immediately for San Francisco and is now being entertained by officials of the local community and will be the guest of honor at a banquet to be held Thursday night, where the chief will address Overland and Willys-Knight dealers from all parts of the state. Willys left Toledo buried under a mantle of snow and ice and was mighty glad to get here. He came across the continent primarily to see the San Francisco show. He admitted to L. M. Stewart, manager of the branch in San Francisco, that he has heard a much about the San Francisco automobile show he wanted to give it a look and be able to tell his colleagues about it. Willys said his plants will soon be producing over a thousand automobiles a day and this schedule will be reached about May. At the present time the factory is building 700 automobiles daily, he told N. W. Boyd of Bell & Boyd.

AUTO SALESMAN CLAIMS UNIQUE SALES RECORD

Henry M. Gaines of the Howard Automobile company claims a unique record for sales. When the first Buick six-cylinder sport car arrived here last fall, he sold it. When the four-cylinder sport car arrived here last Saturday he sold that. Gaines also delivered the seven-passenger Buick sedan during January, a record that any salesman can look upon with pride.

WHY PAY MORE?

The New Cole Plan makes this price possible

For years new car prices have been "watered" by automobile manufacturers to provide for exaggerated allowances on used cars traded in for new ones.

The prospective purchaser has thought only of the "trade-in" allowance; he has not considered the new car price.

Now COLE has squeezed the water out of new car prices. COLE has discontinued used "trade-ins." Thus a real saving of more than $1000 is passed on to the purchaser, where it belongs.

This, in brief, is the plan which now makes it possible to offer the COLE at $1885, f. o. b. factory, nearly one-half the price of a year ago in this city, and from $800 to $1000 less than any car of similar power, finish and quality.

Do you often talk about your battery?

A man with a battery like the Exide, that does its duty ungrudgingly, does not say much about it. He does not think about it—it is off his mind. Exide owners accept better battery performance as a matter of course.

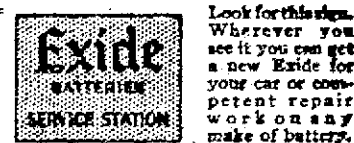

It is the person whose car will not start as required, or whose lights are uncertain, that talks about his battery. This sort of thing goes a long way toward taking the satisfaction out of motoring.

And why put up with it?

You can get an Exide Battery the right size for your car at a nearby Exide Service Station. This short trip there will end your battery worries. The Exide has the rugged power you can always depend on. It lasts so much longer than other batteries that it pays from a dollars-and-cents standpoint.

If you want to know more about the Exide, look up the history of storage batteries or ask any one of millions of motorists enjoying the comfort and the economy of Exide Batteries.

TO INVITE CANADA.

A tip has been given out that the most important business to come before the Pan American Union at its meeting next month in San-Chile, will be the starting of a movement
to make Canada a member of the Union.
There is no reason why Canada should not be a member of the Pan American Union and reasons why it should. It is the first country in the area, the second in commonwealth, and the fifth in population. Obviously sole objection will be based on the question
how much influence Great Britain would lose in the organization if Canada were given membership.
John Elihu Root was Secretary of State,
Barrett, as Director General of the Pan American Union, had charge of the construction of the Pan American Union Building in Washington. Mr. Barrett says that Secretary definitely instructed him, and the instructions were carried out, to place upon the corner of the central patio of the building the national escutcheon of Canada, along with those of the United States and the twenty other American nations; to include in the frieze a Canadian panel, and to have a chair made for the governing board table carrying the coat of arms of Canada. That chair is being today in the store room of the building.
Mr. Barrett revealed the plans of the Union for inviting Canada to membership at a luncheon
yesterday in Toronto.
"I have authority to say," he said, "that it is highly probable and almost certain that the invitation of one of several powerful Latin American countries, like Argentina, where pub-sentiment has already vigorously expressed its opinion on this matter, will assume lead in this ... Definite action will most likely take the
... of a resolution appointing an international commission to study the subject, and
... if the report is favorable, authorizing the governing Board to proceed accordingly in the
... and extend the invitation to Canada
behalf of the present twenty-one constituent nations."
It is probable the nations will join in such invitation. Barrett has interviewed five
... of the representative men of Latin America, the United States, and Canada, and
... that four-fifths have replied strongly in favor. The big question raised was that of Canada's relationship to the British empire.
It is felt that this is a technical question which may be worked out. There remains,
... the matter of the acceptance of the invitation. Barrett says opinion in Canada favors
... a move which was brought about with unanimous invitation of the Union next month.

ARBOR DAY COMING.

The effort is being made for a general observation of Arbor Day in California on March 7.
In connection with Tree Planting Week, March 10 to 19, the State Board of Forestry and the California Association of Nurserymen are cooperating to secure the widespread planting of trees. It is a city in an incentive to civic pride. It is a symbol of the appreciation of the residents of a place for beauty and the
of trees in a place capable of supporting them is a confession of indifference. The new city, the community which springs up over land and acquires a prominence because of the establishment of new industry or the discovery of mineral deposits, seldom takes time to think of appearance or plan for the future. It is when the community finds itself, becomes established,
and grows proud and discovers that it has reached to plan.

Northern California is rich in trees but it is not too rich to provide for the wooded areas of the shaded streets and highways of the future. According to a statement issued by the California Association of Nurserymen, the California Arbor Day was first observed on November 27, 1886,
and was set by Adolph Sutro, of San Francisco. On that day, tree planting exercises were held on Goat Island, at the Presidio and at Fort Mason, in which thousands of children participated. The most interesting exercises from a historical standpoint were held on Goat Island. The place chosen for the planting of the trees was laid out in the shape of a Greek cross, the larger part 300 feet long by 30 feet wide, and the transverse part 150 feet long by 30 feet wide. Among those in charge of the exercises were General Howard, General Vallejo, ex-governor Perkins, Col. John Irish and Joaquin Miller, who read an Arbor Day

poem, the last verse of which was as follows:

"For this, where Balboa's waters toss,
Here in the glorious Spanish bay,
We plant the cross, the Christian cross,
The crusade cross of Arbor Day."

The first tree was planted by Adolph Sutro
who furnished trees for the planting, as did Professor Wickson, of the University of California.

There later appeared to have been some opposition regarding the fixing of Arbor Day on November 27, and in 1915 the state legislature enacted that it should be on March 7, Luther Burbank's birthday. All public schools and educational institutions were directed by this act to observe the day with suitable exercises
to promote the spirit of protection and the desirability of the conservation of trees.

Demands upon the State Nursery for trees
to be planted along the highways prove the interest which is being taken in the state in this work of beautification. As Arbor Day approaches it is evident that Californians realize,
as they have never before, that the beauty and wealth of the state may be increased by the simple act of planting trees.

THE SPECIALTY SALESMEN.

For enthusiasm, resource, and the ability to appraise men and things, the specialty salesman is in a class of his own. He senses the material needs of the country and follows the changing statistics of business prosperity; he is a courier of the common-sense, a saver of time and money.

The specialty salesman is the man who has put the adding machine, the typewriter, and the thousand and one other labor-saving conveniences into general use. He not only has to hold a large vision, he has to transplant it in the difficult ground of his prospect. He talks of the expenditure of hundreds which will save thousands, asks men to change their ways
of doing business, and sees the names of the mighty signed on the dotted line.

The vigor and the confidence of the specialty salesman are inspirational; his optimism an example. In housing three thousand delegates of the International Association of Specialty Salesmen this week Oakland becomes a national center of live qualities. It is appreciative of the honor of being selected as the convention city of the organization and welcomes the opportunity to show its beauty and resources to men whose approval is valuable.

The specialty salesmen have been here but one day but already they have sold themselves to the community.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL NEEDED.

The high school in Alameda was built twenty years ago to accommodate just one-half as many pupils as are now enrolled. Except as an indicator of the city's growth the building is inadequate.

Alameda is not content to delay any longer
the building of a new high school. It is not proud of the fact that the playgrounds, athletic field and gymnasium are too small to give the youth of the city the advantages of those who attend high school in Oakland or Berkeley, and it does not look with favor upon the ten temporary buildings which have been erected to handle the overflow. Alameda intends to have a new high school as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made for the raising of the money.

Five years ago a move was made to erect a high school in Alameda. The high cost of construction brought on a delay. At one time a committee which was appointed to consider the subject recommended
in favor of a memorial high school as a monument to Alamedans who lost their lives in the war. Following a joint meeting of the memorial committee, the City Council, the Board of Education, and a committee from Post No. 9,
The American Legion, the idea was approved,
but building, once more, was delayed because of high costs.

Nothing stopped the growth of the city nor of the high school attendance. Five portable buildings were erected in 1921 and five more in 1922. In rainy weather pupils dash through the showers from one to another. The School Board has acquired a lot next to the high school. Council and Board favor immediate action on plans for a building which shall be large enough for the 1305 students now enrolled and the increase in a number of years to come.

The interests of the city, of its youth, and
of education demand that there be no further delay in giving to Alameda adequate high school facilities.

Three kings and two queens went inside the tomb of King Tut to look at the treasures. In certain parlance this is what is known as an Egyptian full house.

ARCHY COLLABORATES.

Naturally the situation culminated in a scene. Mrs. Rickels and her son and daughter arrayed themselves against old Clarence and made bitter argument. And naturally, they won. Old "Roach" couldn't see any harm in agreeing with them that the stigma of the roach rood ought to be removed from the fair name of Rickels.
What could they do about it, anyway?

He agreed. And right then things started to happen.
The advertising people got us into it; the advertising people will have to get us out of it, the opposition reasoned. And they took Steps.

They summoned to them the head of the largest advertising concern in the country. They asked him what profit he made annually.
Being told, they offered without hesitation to double this sum as a salary to the man if he would give up his other business and spend all his time, energy and talent to the single end of divorcing the name Rickels from the idea of Roach Food.

When they offered him a three-year contract, salary to continue for three years even if the job
should be finished in a shorter period, Daniel Danforth accepted and signed on the dotted line they proffered through their lawyer.
Whereupon things began to happen with such rapidity that it seemed as though nothing had ever happened before in the Rickels'
lives. The summer was beginning and the Rickelses were preparing to go to Maine.

Daniel Danforth arranged to go with them, taking along, as his staff an assistant, a psycho-analyst and three stenographers. (Or perhaps a corps of each, if the thing becomes a musical comedy.) One wing of the Maine lodge was turned into an advertising office in which Danforth was in charge.

There he worked and made his plans of campaign, beginning with the decision that the only way to make the public forget to associate a name with one idea is to give the public another idea more desirable and much more startling with which to associate the name.

Being a man noted for his thoroughness, Danforth considered all possibilities. He had them listed, in fact, and submitted a list to his employers. The list was something like this: (1) A polite, readable and not too scandalous scandal; (2) a new and interesting business enterprise; (3) a wedding between either the son or the daughter and a member of some reputable European royal family;
(4) some philanthropy on a large scale than has ever been attempted before; (5) a movement financed by the Rickelses for the betterment of the human race, without regard to nationality.

Whatever the decision arrived at,
the name of Rickels' Rapid Roach Food must be immediately changed.
All advertising of this name must be stopped at once. The Rickelses must sell all interest in the company without the right to use the name of Rickels, and make public announcement of the sale.

And Mr. Rickels must take immediate steps to stop looking like a cockroach. (In this connection
it may be mentioned that Mr. Rick-els was old and somewhat stooped.
He had a very small head and a long neck, long thin arms and legs
and large hands and feet. He always wore a long frock coat made
of heavy material, which stuck straight out behind him even when he bent over.)

The enterprise decided upon
might be carried out in the name of or by any member of the family, though it was vastly preferable that Mr. Rickels appear as the in-itiator.

The decision upon a plan to be followed called for a family conclave, which lasted from luncheon time into the small hours of the mornings.
(To be Continued)

Speaking of verses written anciently, it seems a great pity to us that the Chinese did not have something similar to the Alexandrian Library, in which the greater part of their poetry was stored and that it was not burned down. It is the fashion just now among certain cliques of hard-working American and English poets to publish "translations from the Chinese."
We have no way of knowing how reproducing the effect of the originals, but we take it for granted that the translators have at least given us what the critics would call the "thought content" of the verses. And nearly all the ideas and metaphors that must have been blithering platitudes two or three thousand years ago.

Wasn't there ever any really good Chinese poetry written? Or do the "translators" flatten it all down?

Fothergill Finch began some translations from the Chinese, but about that time the French went into the Ruhr and he became so excited that he has not had the time to finish them. Fothergill tells us that it is his belief that the French were punished from 1914 to 1918 for the crime that they are now committing and that the Germans were justified in punishing them in advance because they saw that this crime, as yet uncommitted, was in the French hearts.

It is an ingenious theory and should appeal to many others who like Fothergill, have always held the belief that Germany was the innocent and pacific victim of an international conspiracy, militaristic and capitalistic.

EXCERPTS from the NATIONAL PRESS

"It is reported from London that G. K. Chesterton is going to make a new venture in the field of weekly journalism with a magazine of his own. It may be called 'G. K. C.'s Weekly.' But whatever it is called, it will be that. For the man who won a high place among critics by his life of Dickens, made such a splurge in social and political controversy with his 'Heretics' and
'Orthodoxy,' and in addition wrote such brisk detective tales as those in the 'Father Brown' series, should as editor turn out a periodical both amusing and stimulating. No one doubts that he can do it."

Christian Science Monitor: "An unusual feature of the fifth Pan-American Conference to be held at Santiago, Chile, next March, is a prize contest open to airplanes of all makes, the course to be a triangle having as its angles Santiago, Chile; Mendoza, Argentina, and Vina del Mar, Chile. The total distance is not great, it being no more than about 500 miles, but barring the way between these points lie
the Andes mountains, rising to a height of fully 15,000 feet and with a breadth of some 200 miles of steep and craggy ranges where landing is virtually impossible. The rules stipulate that the circuit must be completed within fifteen hours."

New York Herald: "Figures furnished by the health officers of 356 cities having a total population of 32,000,000 show that milk consumption in the United States has increased in ten years from an average of six-tenths of a pint a day for each individual to seven-tenths of a pint, or by nearly 17 per cent. The demand for milk is lowest in the Southern States,

where it is more difficult to keep milk fresh than in the North. In large cities the average consumption is greater than in smaller
towns."

Nedford Mail-Tribune: "Citizens of the land must feel like going out
some place and having a good bawl, after reading of what the mean detectives did to the domestic and imported heinrichs still at large. All the H. R.'s wanted to do was to establish the Soviet form of government with dynamite, and the 'tools of Wall street,' aided by the 'hostile press,' grossly hindered the work."

Seattle Times: "Other European nations do not know whether to regard as a compliment or a jest the suggestion from Senator Smoot that they may be allowed to settle their debts to the United States on the same terms as those proposed for England. They have not arrived at the point where they are ready to consider any settlement."

Kansas City Star: "The sermon of a certain Kansas City church
was preached last Sunday morning
by a visiting minister, and, says
our informant, absolutely no teamwork was used in fitting the music program to the text of the sermon.
The sermon was a red-hot one on prohibition. At its conclusion, the choir started off the hymn, 'Arise,
ye sinners,' and the minister rose and joined lustily with his congregation in singing, 'I drink, yet am forever dry.'"

DEFEND YOUR HEALTH SERVICE

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Voted Physician and Author

THE TORONTO WAY.

Dr. Charles J. Hastings, medical officer of health, Toronto, Canada,
recently published in the Toronto
health bulletin some of the most sensible rules I have ever seen published by any health authority, for preventing the respiratory infections wrongly known as "colds."
The Toronto rules are so good that I print them here. Laymen will find these rules worthy of careful study and some politicians holding jobs as health commissioners may glean a little knowledge from a careful perusal of the Toronto way.
"Don't sit or work in an overheated room. Sixty-five to 68 degrees is quite warm enough; 60 to 65 degrees if you are engaged in any active work. Insist on a slight current in the air of the room you occupy and also a proper degree of humidity.

"Don't use sprays or douches for your nose unless under doctor's orders and instructions. Much more harm than good comes from the use of sprays. In the first place, if a spray is strong enough to destroy the germs, it is more than likely to produce irritation of the mucous membrane, which will lower rather than build up its resisting powers and consequently make it all the more susceptible to germ activity.

"Don't sneeze or cough except into a handkerchief or a piece of cheesecloth, and keep well beyond the range of any one else who is coughing or sneezing.

"Don't allow any member of the family who has an acute cold to come in contact with other members of the household, nor to use the same eating or drinking utensils, etc. Have everything sterilized that is used by one who has contracted a cold, as you would if they had scarlet fever or diphtheria.

"Don't go to any public meetings
if you have a cold. You had better stay at home until it is better. You will save time by doing so and probably save others from contracting your cold.

"Don't stand close to any one with whom you are conversing if you are really anxious to go about when you have a cold and do not under any circumstances shake hands with any one while you have an acute cold. Remember, through the frequent use of your handkerchief, your hands are always contaminated with the germs of the disease. Have you ever catechized your hands and fingers with regard to everything they have been in contact with in the previous 24 hours? One of the surgeons in a military camp during the World War kept a careful record of the number of possibilities of contracting his hands in one day; it amounted approximately to 120.
"Don't under any consideration touch any article of food, whether for yourself or for any one else, unless you have previously thoroughly cleansed your hands. 'Have you washed your hands?' would be a valuable motto to be placed in every dining room.
"Hundreds of lives could be saved
and thousands of cases of sickness prevented if people were as much afraid of colds as they are of small-pox or a mad dog."

I would add only a word or two of explanation to the lay reader.
The "proper degree of humidity" will be reached when the air in the room
if the temperature is not permitted to rise above 68 degrees F. at any time, by keeping an open vessel of water on stove, register or radiator.
If the temperature rises above 68
degrees F. it is almost impossible to maintain sufficient humidity by any means.

HOSPITAL VERSE TELLS PATIENT'S IMPROVEMENT

School Superintendent Martin, Rhymes Say He Gets Better Daily.

If there is anyone who has doubts as to the improved condition of David E. Martin, county superintendent of schools, who is at Zion hospital, San Francisco, where he underwent a serious operation for stomach trouble about two weeks ago, proof is given in some rhymes which he has written at the hospital.

Martin titles the verses, "Day by Day" and makes apologies to Coue. They follow:

Every day in every way,
I'm sure I'm better and better.
The doctors say by the end of May,
I'll be a real go-getter.

Why worry 'bout troubles down deep within,
When day by day I'm more fit and fit?
Grit's the thing! Let's shout and sing,
And breathe the face with a happy smile.

Always it seems, even in dreams,
There's something amiss, that does not fit.
But really you know, it's always
That life is sweet and much worth while.

So let's be gay through the live long day,
And sing the bile, to h— with it.
Yes, Gastro's bad and Enter's worse
And Ostomy's needed to cheat the nurse.

But what can you do when you're quite through,
And life has lost its old time zest?
Now I sleep at night, the future is bright,
My courage is high, my flag untied.

And "day by day" to myself I say,
God's in the heaven. All's well with the world.

Costume Dinner And Victory Ball at Mills

The annual costume dinner in Mills hall to be followed by the Victory ball in Lissner hall at Mills college, is the chief attraction for the college sets this week. The affair will be observed on Washington's birthday. The freshmen, clad in the uniform of colonial gentlemen will call for the senior partners and for a few chosen members of the faculty. One hundred and fifty freshmen are making elaborate plans for the big event and this year because the holiday comes within Mills college campaign week a number of leading men and women in the campaign have been invited.

The minut is to be danced during the evening along with the square dances and the old Virginia reel. The George Washington party is one of the beautiful traditions on the Mills college campus dating far back into the eighties.

Mrs. Joseph Carlston of Geranium, Fla. has sent out cards, incidentally, for a luncheon to be given at her home the afternoon of February 23, when Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt, president of Mills college will be the honor guest. Places will be set for seventy five guests.

Among the younger girls prominent in campus affairs is Miss Virginia Crosby, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Daniel Crosby, who last evening played the role of Gaudier, the baker in the "La Farce du Pate de la Tartre" presented by the French Club. Miss Florence Heilman, daughter of Mrs. I. W. Heilman of San Francisco, was Marion the baker's wife and Rose Dorn and Blanche Shoenke played the remaining roles of the vaudeville. There were songs by Miss Josephine Cook and Mr. Jean Worthingham. Miss Dorothy Fifer of this city is president of the French Club.

LUNCHEON AT COUNTRY CLUB.
Mrs. Charles D. Bates Jr. has issued invitations for a large luncheon at the Alhambra Country Club on the afternoon of March 1.

CARDS ARE OUT FOR LUNCHEON.
Mrs. William Thornton White has sent out four score or more invitations for a luncheon at the Woman's Athletic Club, Monday, March 5. There will be two guests of honor, Mrs. William Griffith Henshaw and Mrs. Charles Clarke Kenney, her daughter.

In honor of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Henshaw, Mr. and Mrs. Griffith Henshaw and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clarke Kenney, a dinner for several score of guests will be given the evening of March 9, by Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Henshaw at their new home in Piedmont. It is of the French architecture and one of the most interesting homes recently completed. The entire lower floor will be used for the affair, the guests to be seated at small tables placed throughout the drawing rooms.

Complimenting Mrs. Griffith Henshaw, her sister-in-law, Mrs. Kenney has sent out cards for a luncheon March 8 at her home in Piedmont, designed after the old Spanish period. Several score are to be guests on this date.

For Mrs. Charles Kenney, cards have been sent out by Mrs. Frank Hunt Proctor of Crocker Highlands for a luncheon February 28, bridge and Mah Jongg to be the afternoon.

BRIDGE AND MAH JONGG.
Mrs. Lella Butler Stoddard of Berkeley has sent out invitations for a luncheon at which she will preside as hostess tomorrow afternoon at the Francisco Club across the bay. Mrs. Stoddard recently returned from a visit to Australia where she spent a month on the Kibbe ranch. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hedges Jr., who made the trip with Mrs. Stoddard, have returned to their ranch at Hollister.

BRIDGE AND MAH JONGG.
The bridge and Mah Jongg are the diversion for the afternoon which Mrs. James Tyson of Piedmont has arranged for her guests.

CLEAN KIDNEYS BY DRINKING LOTS OF WATER.

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys If Bladder Bothered Or Back Hurts

Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some form, says a well-known authority, because the acids created excite the kidneys. Then they come overworked, get sluggish, close up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatism, twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, then your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to cleanse the system so that they can perform their normal relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advertisement.

Colored Folk to Pay Tribute to Patriots

E. church will hold a Lincoln and Washington celebration for the colored people of the Eastbay district tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the Swedish Baptist church, Tenth and Magdolna. "SISY KNOTT" DEAD.

BERKELEY ISSUES MONOGRAPH FOR POLICE GUIDANCE

New Publication Will Handicap Bad Check Artists by Indexing Writing.

BERKELEY, Feb. 21.—The distinction of presenting to the world the initial volume of a series of practice police monographs, the first of their kind to be published in the United States, has been accorded the Berkeley police department.

D. Lee, superintendent of records of the Berkeley police department, and R. A. Abbey, handwriting expert of the same department, are the authors of the first monograph, "Classification and Identification of Handwriting," just off the press, published by Appleton & Co. of New York.

In their book Lee and Abbey become the nemesis of the bad check writer and provide a system for indexing and classifying handwriting in order that fictitious checks may be easily traced. A work of this kind has never been attempted before by any police department and the new volume is being received with great interest not only by students of crime but by bankers and others to whom the passer of bad checks spells the loss of thousands of dollars annually.

The Lee-Abbey volume is the first of a series of monographs to be published by the Appleton company dealing with varied phases of criminology. Heretofore all such works have come from Europe and Asia, and the United States has contributed nothing in written form to the criminological libraries of the world, declares Chief of Police August Vollmer of Berkeley.

A tentative list of experts who will contribute to this new "crime library" and whose works are expected to become "text books" to be used by students of criminology in all parts of the world is made up largely of Californians.

Dr. John A. Larson, only policeman in the country with a doctor of philosophy degree is now preparing a book on "The Single Finger Print System." This system makes possible the identification of a criminal with but a portion of a fingerprint instead of an entire hand, as at present. Dr. Larson's single print system has been installed in the Berkeley department and its workings have been watched with interest by criminologists in all parts of the country. This volume will be forthcoming from the press shortly, according to an announcement from the publisher.

Others asked to contribute to the series and the titles of their proposed contributions are: Dr. Albert Schneider, dean of the Berkeley police school, "Police Microscopy"; Dr. Jau Don Ball, psychiatrist, "Psychiatric Examination"; Heinrich, Berkeley crime expert, "Investigation of Crime"; Dr. Herman Adler, state criminologist in Illinois and member of University of California Summer Session faculty, "Juvenile Delinquency"; Dr. E. B. Hogg, Los Angeles child hygiene expert and former University of California faculty member, "Prevention of Crime."

PORTUGAL CROWN CLAIMANT DEAD

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEAFER WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Prince Miguel de Braganza, eldest son of Don Miguel Braganza, pretender to the throne of Portugal, died here today of double pneumonia.

The prince, who was 45 years old, came to this country recently to earn a living by selling insurance for the firm controlled by relatives of his wife, who was Miss Anita Stewart of New York.

Soon after the marriage of the prince he was sued for $1,000,000 by a syndicate of creditors in Vienna and his furniture and household effects were seized.

Emperor Francis Joseph later discharged his debts. Meanwhile the prince went to London and for a time was employed in a broker's office. In October, 1911, reports were current that he would seek the Portuguese throne through a secret engagement between his father and former King Manuel, should the royalists win a coup. It was reported that he had raised a loan of $10,000,000 for the royalist cause, but the movement collapsed.

At the outbreak of the war Emperor Joseph was in the Sixth Lancer regiment. He later became a captain in the German cavalry.

The prince then dropped from public notice until 1919, when the continental press reported that he would be offered the throne of Portugal. Nothing happened however, and he came to New York.

The prince's wife is a daughter of William Rhinelandt Stewart, whose wife after her divorce married the late James Henry Smith. A large share of the Smith fortune went to Miss Stewart.

James Henry Smith was known to his friends as "Silent" Smith and was a prominent social figure. He inherited $25,000,000 from an uncle.

Stockmen to Meet At Hereford Roundup

The event is an annual assembly of men engaged in producing the nation's best stock. A four-day round-up of Hereford stock is the magnet which draws cattlemen here. It is held under auspices of the American Hereford Cattle Breeders' Association.

In the round-up crowds will be seen some of the best South American ranchmen from Brazil and Uruguay, picturesque "cowmen" from plains and mountains of the United States and stockmen from every belt of the world.

GIRL'S DEATH AT 'PARTY' PROBED

EL PASO, Feb. 21.—A grand jury here today investigated the tragic death of Marjorie Dean Green, beautiful 17-year-old debutante, which followed an alleged "party" in the rear of a Juarez cafe.

The girl, whom a coroner's verdict said was a victim of acute alcoholism and cocaine poisoning, was buried late yesterday as the quietest of the Central Baptist church, at which she was a member, sang "Some Day We'll Understand."

Alleen and Marie Hall, cabaret dancers, for whom police searched following the inquest, told the United Press of events prior to the girl's death.

"Marjorie Green was in our party visiting Juarez cafes," said Alleen. "We were all drinking. Near midnight Marjorie fainted. We thought the drink had gotten the best of her so we took her across the river to the Mansion House where she died after we left her."

A. B. Summers of Dallas, a member of the fatal party, had previously told police that Marjorie had collapsed after she had snuffed white powder given her by one of the Hall girls.

The victim's family is said to be well known in Los Angeles.

TRADE IN EAST REVIVES, OAKLAND MERCHANT FINDS

Dealers Optimistic, Prices in Some Lines Tend Upward.

Thomas W. Sullivan, merchandise manager of the H. C. Capwell company, has just returned from a business trip to the Eastern markets with a score of Capwell buyers. He reports that the business gloom prevalent among New York businessmen in the early part of January has disappeared and the outlook is now more than optimistic in all lines of retail business and manufacturing.

"This is due primarily to the business revival in the manufacturing industries," he said. "Prices on all goods are firm with a tendency in some cases to go higher."

"Among the styles, sports apparel is receiving the greatest attention from manufacturers who have evolved entirely new effects in fabrics, style and color combinations. The Egyptian influence is strong in the designing, while the Near and Far East continue their influence on the coloring."

"Nowhere," he concluded, "have I observed greater building activity than in Oakland, and this city is known and talked of in the East for the rapid growth it is now making."

Trestle Glen Plan Of Purchase Favored

Members of the Lakeview Improvement club appeared before the Park board yesterday and explained their plans for the acquisition of what is left of Trestle Glen, by means of an assessment district plan under which the residents near the park would pay for its purchase. The portion of Trestle Glen still untenanted lies behind the power house at Park boulevard and extends up the canyon for some distance. It is planned by the Lakeview residents to acquire this property before it can be cut up into building sites.

Emperor of China Known as "Henry"

LONDON, Feb. 21.—The boy emperor of China, who recently married Princess Kuo Chia Shih, has issued an edict adopting the names of "Henry" for himself and "Elizabeth" for the new empress, according to information reaching London from Peking.

It was the emperor's admiration for Henry VIII of England and Queen Elizabeth which caused him to adopt these names.

Quick Quaker Oats

Cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes

No Other Oats

Cook so quickly as these

Now there's a Quick Quaker Oats — the quickest-cooking oats in the world. Your grocer has it as well as the regular. Quick Quaker cooks in 3 to 5 minutes, and cooks to perfection. No other style of oat flakes cooks nearly so quickly as that.

Now two things you want

Now Quaker Oats offer you two things you want. They offer a flavor which has won the world. Quaker Oats dominate wherever oat lovers live. Never was an oat dish made so delicious.

That's because we use queen grains only—just the rich, plump, flaky oats. All puny grains are discarded. We get but ten pounds of these luscious flakes from a bushel.

Now Quick Quaker offers that same super-quality, almost ready to eat. It is flaked from the same grains, but the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and are partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly.

A German shoemaker once made a clock entirely of straw; it is reported to have kept good time.

CALIFORNIA AND STANFORD MEET IN IMPORTANT BASKETBALL GAME AT BERKELEY TONIGHT

STANFORD QUINTET TO MEET BEARS AT BERKELEY TONIGHT

California's Chances of Winning Southern Section of Pacific Coast Conference Depend On Winning From Cardinal Five

By DOUG. MONTELL

Those who figure California's chances in terms of past accomplishments are none too certain that the Golden Bears will enjoy a feast at the expense of their Indian friends from down the peninsula this evening at Jim Harmon's building on the Berkeley campus. Tonight marks the third meeting of the year of the Stanford and California basketball quintets, honors being easy between the ancient rivals for basketball supremacy from the standpoint of dual competition and considerable uneasy in so far as conference competition is concerned.

The situation this year has been unique, typical of the basketball game from start to finish, one upset following another in rapid succession until local hoop fans are goaded to a point of desperation in trying to pick a winner.

California is confronted with the delightful situation of being forced to sweep the bears tonight, and again Friday night to win the right to play the Cardinal hoopers a fifth game to decide the section championship of the conference. The California basketball team, ardent student backers and staunch alumni supporters are inclined to believe that the trick can be turned but those less given to partiality in the formation of their opinions concede that the edge held by the Stanfordites, a margin of two games, gives Andy Kerr's men every reason to believe themselves champions in the making.

Home Court Means Much to California.

This is a logical deduction when one stops to consider that California, having the advantage of the sheltering roof of their home floor tonight, will be forced to advance once again into the territory of the enemy Friday night to wage another hard-fought contest.

Two more evenly matched teams have never before represented Stanford and California. In past years traditional rivalry might bring one team to battle against odds sufficiently to make a nip and tuck game of it, but after reviewing the facts of the first two games there appears to be so little in favor of one team or the other that each game can be figured to be decided by free throws.

In this respect Johnny Talt of the Bears has a shadow over him. McHose of Stanford. Ordinarily Talt would be considered the best forward of either team, but he has been so completely shadowed to date that his ability has been hidden under a bushel basket.

Thompson Should Start for Bears.

The return of "Dutch" Thompson to the game at running guard for the Bears is freely predicted tonight. Thompson, who is suffering from injuries received in the first Stanford game when the two teams met at Palo Alto last Saturday and did not participate in the evening's festivities. His work in guarding McHose, twice with the exception of goals, aided materially in the upset that gave California her victory in the contest.

Coach Wright is a strong believer in hunches. The peppy California coach played one to a winner in the first game and might have done as well had he had the use of his full strength.

Coach Andy Kerr, on the other hand, is equally as brilliant a strategist. While Coach Wright's strategy was shown in the handling of his men Coach Kerr showed his in the development of a basketball team along the same lines as he did in football, only manifesting more successfully.

Two had Andy Smith couldn't have the opportunity of matching wits with Kerr indoors as well as outdoors. As it is Andy of California sits high on the bleachers at each game and stories in the night displayed by the various men on the team.

Kincaid and Talt Appealed to Andy.

At the first game the work of Kincaid and Talt particularly appealed to Andy, who said that it was simply a question of time before the 60 per cent fight winning. The 40 per cent instruction prepares the men to play the game skillfully in accordance with the rules, practice drills them to do their work efficiently, but the actual game involves the 60 per cent. Team cannot win. That's Andy Smith's code, which he maintains applies as well to basketball as it does to football.

Probable line-ups follow: California. Pos. Stanford. Pos. Forward. McHose. Forward. Rogers. O'Neill. Guard. Janzen. Thompson. Guard. Oliver. Kincaid. Guard. Anderson.

Babe Ruth and Family

"BABE" RUTH, king pin of sluggers, and MRS. RUTH and their baby daughter, DOROTHY HELEN, snapped at the Pennsylvania station, New York, as the home-run star en-trained for Hot Springs, W. Va., where he will begin the second stage of his attempt to get into condition to make a new record in four baggers next season.

Inside Dope on the LITTLE FOUR ROUNDER

By BOB SHAND

Thillie Herman lost a fine chance to become a main event here when he dropped a close decision to Bert Colima in the south last night. Tommy Simpson had a nice program lined up which included a bout between Herman and Young Dudley with Frankie McCann vs. Bud Ridley and Jack Blackburn vs. Ray Peck. The defeat will probably make Tommy change his plans.

Tom Kelly, the Australian middleweight who was quite a sensation around Portland and Seattle, dropped into town yesterday accompanied by Manager Brannan. Kelly is anxious to show his wares here.

Another newcomer made his debut in the West Oakland club in Joe Rodgers, an Indian welterweight, who has met and defeated some of the best in the east. He is a tough, aggressive fellow in the gymnasium and looks like an audience pleaser. He may appear on the next card.

Billy Wilson, representing Johnny McManus, is in town trying to get a bout for his prize. McManus and French Kint boxed a draw the other night.

Johnny Farr, who took a decision over Danny Dick Griffin in San Francisco last week, has moved to this side of the bay and will be seen in action soon.

Announcement was made at the Arcadia fights last night that the Cliff will assume the management of the club with Moose Tausig acting as matchmaker. The club has changed hands several times in recent months.

Bobbie Allen, substituting for Johnny Reister, was punched all

Matthewson Will Return To Baseball

"Big Six" Is Elected to the Presidency of Boston Nationals.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Baseball has been given back one of its most popular heroes, the man the back lot boy emulates, Christy Matthewson who, it was announced in Boston last night, returns from his battle with tuberculosis to the diamond as president of the Boston National League Baseball Club which has been purchased by a New York syndicate.

"Big Six" thus boasts of the few players who became business executives of the first rank, one of the others being A. G. Spaulding, one of the sport's early fathers. More than that, Matty is one of the few players who have emerged as much of an idol when he finished his untarnished playing days as at the heyday of his career.

Matthewson's success as a club manager and general executive will be the source of attention of the nation's followers of the game who watched him succeed as a pitcher until he was regarded as without a peer, as a manager who worked wonders with unfavorable material, and as a pitcher's coach where his achievements were less spectacular.

For two years and a half the baseball loving public has turned its eyes toward a cottage on Saratoga Lake, N. Y., in the Adirondacks, where Matty, in a semi-retreat with his family, fought the onslaught of the disease, a long, patience-killing battle in which apparently he has triumphed. Dismissed from the game, he is still under physicians' orders.

Turning from the success of a decade and a half as a player to take the reins of the Cincinnati club as manager, Matthewson was on the road to success when he stepped aside to get into the war and in uniform. He served in France as an officer in the intelligence service.

His career is full of picturesque turns and dramatic combats with the rival moundmen of his time, both in league games and in the several world series in which he participated brilliantly. He was one of the first college men in baseball, when a sheep skin on the diamond was a subject for caricature.

After leaving Bucknell College, where he was a star football as well as baseball player, Matthewson went with the Taunton, Mass., club. That was in 1895. The next season saw him in the uniform of the Norfolk, Va., club, which disposed of him to the Giants. He was regarded as unripe for fast company and sent back to Norfolk. But for only a few months. The Cincinnati club took him as it had discovered many other stars, and like many of the finds it had turned up, it traded him to New York. John J. McGraw having assumed full command. He was traded for Gus Ruzic, then the most brilliant pitcher in the game.

Bear Soccerites To Meet Stanford

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Feb. 21.—California's varsity and freshman soccer teams will provide the entertainment for sport fans on the campus as a Washington's Birthday attraction, the double bill starting at 1 o'clock on California Field with the rival freshman teams meeting.

The varsity contest will follow at 3 o'clock. Stanford won the honors over the Bears in 1922 by a score of 2 to 1 and are hoped to repeat this year on the strength of their showing in early season contests in the University and Club league.

BOXING AT CROCKETT.

CROCKETT, Feb. 21.—A card of boxing bouts will be held in the Community Center club tomorrow as follows:

Mickey O'Donnell vs. Joe Santos. Eddie Schaffee vs. Jack Steiner. Joe Gomez vs. Tommy West. Young Chubby vs. Kid Rovellos. Billy Lakeman vs. K. O. Belled. Jimmie Silvia of Eagle will referee.

ST. IGNATIUS IN SOUTH.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Feb. 21.—The St. Ignatius college basketball team of San Francisco was to arrive here today for games against the Los Angeles Athletic club five tomorrow, Friday and Saturday nights.

Following Carl Franklin's victory over Johnny Curtin, a K. O. in the sixth round, there is a bout for the bantam title.

Carl Mays on Way to N. Y. Yankees' Camp

SPRINGFIELD, Missouri, Feb. 21.—Carl Mays, submarine hurler of the New York Yankees, today was speeding to Hot Springs, Ark., to report for spring practice. "All I want is plenty of work this season and I'll win more than my share of games," said Mays. Mays has been spending the winter at his country home near Springfield, chopping wood and roaming over the Ozark mountains.

Richmond Athlete Is Captain at Stanford

RICHMOND, Feb. 21.—Phil De Luna, well-known former Richmond athlete, has been honored with the captaincy of the 130-pound basketball team of Stanford university. Last season De Luna was a forward on the Stanford team and was the leading scorer by shooting the winning basket in one of the games with the U. of C. 130-pounders. Before returning to Stanford, De Luna played with the Richmond All-Star basketball team.

Drivers Will Start in Dog Race Tomorrow

ASHTON, Idaho, Feb. 21.—Ten drivers, including two women, will draw tonight for starting positions in the American dog derby here on Washington's birthday, following eliminations from among sixteen aspirants. They are Ted Kent, Buffalo River, present champion; Lydia Hutchison, Ashton; Smoky Gaston, West Yellowstone; William Koeh, Big Springs; George Plicher, Henry's Lake; William Trade, Island Park; Gilbert Ferry, Squibb; Olcott Zarr, Ashton; John Reber, Shotgun Valley, and Clara Colwell, Green Timber. Although the famous classic is confined to ten teams, there are over 100 in Ashton, which have brought owners in over trails for the event. It is not generally known that dog teams are used in this region during the winter as much as in the far northern territory for transportation purposes.

MAY RESUME BOXING. ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 21.—President Buchanan of the police board announced professional boxing may be resumed in St. Louis. Professional boxing has been prohibited here for more than a year.

International Soccer Match On Tomorrow

Scotland and America Play in Second Game of Series at Alameda.

Tomorrow afternoon at Washington Park, Alameda, the second game of the international soccer series will be played with the American team meeting Scotland. The series is conducted on an elimination basis, the game tomorrow being the one postponed from New Year's Day.

The winner of tomorrow's match is to play England, the Thanksgiving Day winners, for the championship.

The line-up of the American team is not composed entirely of players born in the United States, foreign-born appearing in the line-up of the team that will oppose Scotland.

The line-ups of the two teams follow: Scotland. Goal, Harris (A. O. F.); fullbacks, Cameron (Rangers) and Brown (Rangers); halfbacks, Jase (Rangers), Lumsden (Rangers) and Johnson (Rangers); forwards, Nicholson (Neptunes), Shearer (Rangers), Livingstone (Sons of St. George), Ewen (Rangers) and McGavin. American. Goal, Moore; fullbacks, Critchlow (Neptune), and

Today's Anniversaries & Old Time Fights

FEBRUARY 21. 1896—Bob Fitzsimmons knocked out Peter Maher, 1 round, Langtry, Texas. 1900—Topsy McGovern and George Dixon, 3 rounds, exhibition, New York. 1911—Sam Langford won on a foul from Bill Lange, 6 rounds, London. 1911—Lenoch Cross and John Marie, 10 rounds, no decision, New York. 1912—Left Smith beat George Chipp, 15 rounds, Providence.

Roy Crumpler Off to Join Portland Club

RICHMOND, Feb. 21.—Roy Crumpler, southpaw pitcher for the Portland ball club, left today to join his team for spring training at Eyrton. Crumpler has pitched three seasons with the San Francisco and Portland nines with indifferent success, but is counted on this year to bring home the bacon. He has been stopping while in Richmond with his brother, H. E. Crumpler, cigar store proprietor.

HAS POOR DISPOSITION.

Tony Kaufman has had a poor disposition for a pitcher in action. This club twirler showed a tendency to allow his hate feelings to hamper his work when the going gets rough. Bottinelli (Virtus Club); halfbacks, Baigalupl (Virtus club); T. La Croix (Neptune) and Canes (G. G. Merchants); forwards, Rose (Neptune), Arnold (Neptune), Hyndman (Sons of St. George), Paganio (Virtus club), and Dick-see (Neptune).

Date Is Lik To Be Chan For Track M

Conference Gather Pullman May Be Poned Till June

BERKELEY, Feb. 21.—Very probable that the U. of California track team will participate in both the I. C. A. meet in the East and the Coast Conference meet at Washington, this spring. nally scheduled both were to be held on May 25. J. Bohler, director of physical education and athletics at U. of California, where the meet is to be held, has been among the northern ins and apparently successful guard to setting back the date. With both meets scheduled the same date the California members of the Pacific Coast conference, Stanford, U. S. C. A. forms in particular, have a difficult situation. It is imperative that California Stanford attend this meet. Coast Conference, both having missed the last year to attend the I. O. A. A. yet being the present cup the Bear team cannot stay away from the East.

CHARTER FUND
PLAN APPROVED

RICHMOND, Feb. 21.—Several more sections of the new city charter
were taken up by the Board of Freeholders and adopted at last night's meeting. The principal section discussed relates to the funds of the city and how they shall be handled. The section agreed on reads as follows:

"Upon the recommendation of the city manager, the council may designate one or more legally established banks to be a depository of municipal funds, upon such banks furnishing adequate security for the safe-keeping thereof and upon such conditions and payment for the use of such funds as the council may require. In the event that all municipal funds shall be deposited as herein provided the office of treasurer shall be combined with another who shall be
city treasurer."

Whether this new section becomes operative will rest in the hands of the city manager.

Another section agreed on last night provides that the city manager shall appoint the following officers: Harbor manager, assessor,
tax collector, treasurer, city engineer and superintendent of streets, chief of police, chief of fire department and health officer.

This section also states that two or more offices may be held by the same person.

At Friday night's meeting of the board of freeholders, asking for action on the framing of a provision of the new charter relating to public welfare, social activities and recreation. Under public welfare will be taken up the question of a city hospital.

Dr. C. J. Abbott, president of the board, occupied the chair with all members present except J. Harry Plate and W. J. Richards Jr.

Richmond Elks Have 2550 Gallons of Fun at Boxing Bout

RICHMOND, Feb. 21.—The Elks enjoyed a boxing exhibition at the clubrooms last night with Frank Barriac and Art Maganini, pugil-ists of Oakland, tussling for four rounds. Both boys extended themselves for the edification of the Elks although at the close of the bout
the boys remained the best of friends.

A little comedy was injected into the evening when Art Alstrom, con-fiscator and club member, rushed in and tried to break up a framed squabble between Barriac and Maganini, both of whom had been dolled up in walters. Alstrom and Assemblyman Tom Carlson were the only members not in on the frame-up. Both gallantly rushed in and finally broke up the little set-to.

Kozy Kove Boosted
As Park for Public

RICHMOND, Feb. 21.—Miss Katherine McCracken appeared before the West Side Improvement club Monday afternoon and indorsed the proposal that the city
buy Kozy Kove park at Point Richmond and turn it into a public park.

Kozy Kove is one of the most frequented spots about Richmond on week-ends, and the club women are a unit in wishing it acquired by the city as one of several parks to be established by the city within the next few years. Mrs. J. Eaton and Mrs. Fred Hicks read papers on "The California Indians," dealing particularly with different tribes and their characteristics. Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Max Henry.

Sunday Dancing
Protest Planned

RICHMOND, Feb. 21.—The Richmond Federation of Churches, the Richmond Ministerial Union, representatives of local women's clubs and the W. C. T. U. are preparing to protest action to permit Sunday dancing in Richmond. Opposition arose with the request of Adolph Winters, owner of the new Winters building, made before the city council Monday night, asking for permission to conduct a dance at the conclusion of the ball in the second story of the building in the evening of Sunday, March 4. The council gave out that it had no objection to one dance date but left the matter of permit up to the police department.

WILD INDIANS
DANCE ON LAWN
AT LAKESIDE

Oaklanders in Garb of Redmen Pave Way for Scouts' Pageant.

Wild Indians gave peaceful Oakland citizens a thrill yesterday by holding a war dance on the lawn at Lakeside Park and later engaging in a pow-wow with a traffic "cop"
at Fourteenth and Broadway because the officer held up their fliver.

They were not regular Indians,
but leading business men and officials pow-wowing over the Boy Scout Indian pageant to be held in the Auditorium March 2 and 3.

In the group were Postmaster
Joseph J. Rosborough, Oliver Kehrlein, theater owner; and Homer J.
Bemis, Scout executive. Wearing the costume and waist paint of the aborigines they dashed through the streets in a modern automobile and held a wild dance near the boat house at Lake Merritt.

The demonstration was a forerunner of what will be seen on the afternoon of March 2, when hundreds of Boy Scouts as well as adult leaders will be seen in a great Indian parade through the streets.
Rosborough, chairman of the parade committee, declared the colorful event ever held in the local streets.

The first pageant will be given Friday evening and there will be a matinee and evening repetition on Saturday. The pageant will be under the direction of Ralph Hubbard, son of the late Elbert Hubbard, and will accurately depict the life of the Indians of generations ago. The collection of costumes is valued at $10,000.

Harry Thaw, Now
Seeming Old Man,
Given Vacation

By JOSEPH C. WADSWORTH
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 21.—The great front gates of the Pennsylvania Hospital for the Insane
were open today and a white-haired, stooped, sallow-faced man rode out in a closed automobile
for a temporary "vacation."

It was Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White and former husband of Evelyn Nesbit, who has been granted liberty for ten days, that he may visit his aged mother, Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, in Pittsburgh.

Few persons today would recognize the man who was committed to the asylum six years ago. In 1917 Thaw was as straight as an arrow, his hair was coal black and he walked with a spry step.

Today, as he left the hospital,
accompanied by his guard, who is responsible for his safe return
before March 3, his step was regular, slightly limping, and over his temporary liberty. His general appearance is vastly changed.

Thaw's complexion is a sickly yellow white, almost a prison
pallor. His shoulders are bent
as an arrow, his hair is white and he looks nearer 70 years old today than 52.

He was dressed fashionably. An overcoat was drawn close around him and a soft felt hat was pulled down over his eyes. Beneath the hat strands of white hair showed.
Thaw manifested no interest in leave the asylum. His only concern was relative to the care of his pets while he was away. He has raised pigeons, and the birds
fly toward him whenever he approaches and sit on his head, shoulders and arms.

ALAMEDA, Feb. 21.—Frederick
O. Emley, Albert Sturzlinger and Harry Knudsen, who successfully passed the recent mental and physical examinations for members of the Alameda police department, were appointed members of the force today. Emley has been detailed as traffic officer, succeeding George Grey.

"Why Camouflage
On Soft Drinks?"
Asks Colbourn

Suspecting that bootleggers
may be operating behind curtained windows in soft-drink parlors, Commissioner Frank Colbourn today requested Chief of Police Drew to look into the matter of curtains in soft-drink parlors and find why curtains are necessary.

The letter to the chief follows:
"It has been reported to this office that certain soft drink parlors are putting up in their places of business heavy curtains to conceal, in a measure, their operations from the public view.
Since so many of these places
have been under fire, it would seem that those conducting their business legitimately would not need to camouflage their places.

"Kindly investigate this allegation and advise me what action you think best to take in the matter."

RHUBARB MEN
FORM NEW BODY

SAN LEANDRO, Feb. 21.—Final organization of a California Rhubarb Growers' Association here was effected at a meeting of members and prospective members this afternoon. The gathering took place at Edward Holland's warehouse, Estudillo Station.

Approximately 100 rhubarb
growers of this section of the county were present. F. N. Bigelow,
head of the division of markets,
San Francisco, attended the meeting, explaining the marketing agreement drawn up and assisting generally in the organization procedure.

Report has been made by J. J.
Smith, chairman of a committee
in temporary charge, that all the rhubarb growers of the Ashland district, with the exception of Ernest Fisher, incumbents being the only candidates for the office of the association.

The other proposition will be the sustaining or rejecting of the new zoning ordinance.

Ancient Linen at Wedding Feast

SAN LEANDRO, Feb. 21.—Ronald W. McCoy, son of Mrs. S. C.
McCoy of this city, was united in marriage last month to Miss Anne Lewis Castillo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Castillo of Monrovia.

The linen on the bride's table at the wedding breakfast was over 150 years old, the table cloth and napkins being woven in Ireland and brought over to America by Miss Castillo's great-grandfather, William Irvine, who afterward served in the revolutionary war as bandier general under Wayne. In the corner of the table cloth was written in indelible ink
the name of Anna Irvine, the writing being very clear and distinct
after a century and a half.

Knights of Columbus
Plan Big Initiation

Arrangements have been completed by Alameda Council No. 751, Knights of Columbus, for the initiation of the largest class of candidates in the history of the council,
next Sunday at Pythian Castle, Twelfth and Alice streets. Some of Oakland's prominent citizens are numbered among the candidates and large delegations from San Francisco and Marin County, as well as from the eastbay cities, will be present.

The second degree will be in charge of the officers of San Francisco Council, No. 515, and will start at 1:30 p. m. to be followed immediately by the third degree. The third degree will be in charge of Past State Deputy Frank M. Silva, assisted by Rod Chisholm and a degree team.

After Every Meal
WRIGLEYS

Most of us eat too hastily and do not
chew our food enough.
If people realized

them if properly
masticated, and followed up with a bit of WRIGLEY'S to

we'd have far better health.
